PCC, Community Begins Search for its Next President

Staff Reports

The Pamlico County College Board of Trustees kicked off the selection process to find a new president Monday with two public input forums. The first was attended by students and faculty and the second was held for the general public. According to the Board, it's important that the citizens in the college's service area be heard regarding the traits and characteristics of the next president. These forums provided a platform for citizens to tell the Board which traits and characteristics they feel the incoming president should possess.

A number of people took advantage of this opportunity. The first forum for students and faculty was well attended with about half of Pamlico's staff present, according to Search

Liaison, Michelle Noevere. "There were a lot of really good comments and interesting ideas brought to the Boards' attention," said Noevere.

Pamlico Commissioner Pat Prescott attended the general public input forum and told the board that she wants a president that is visible in the county and one that will make themselves known to community leaders. She also asked the board to consider a candidate that will have strong ties to economic development.

Ken Heath, also a Pamlico County Commissioner, agreed with Prescott and said that the new president needs to be a visionary. "We need programs that will train people for jobs that are here in the county," said Heath. "Because he set the standard so high, Cleve will be hard to replace. We need someone with his same passion

Jerry and Pat Prescott turned out to participate in the forum to gather input.

The Pamlico Community College Board of Trustees and presidential search consultant Dr. Donny Hunter (third from right) kicked off the search for a new president at two public forums Monday at the Delamar Center on the campus of PCC.

Building Owner Vows to Cover Graffiti

A move to draft a graffiti ordinance for the town of Oriental has been tabled following assurances from Town-n-Country owner Ruth Ireland that the reason for such an ordinance would be removed.

At last week's Town Board meeting Oriental Mayor Sally Belangia informed the board that she spoke directly with the now closed grocery store owner about the boarded up structure. According to Belangia, Ireland said that the building had to be boarded up for insurance purposes, but a professional would soon be hired to paint over the graffiti that has been since Halloween night by the end of the month.

In response, the board decided to table action on a proposed graffiti ordinance that was suggested as a way of getting rid of the graffiti until February's meeting. Several commissioners raised questions about the need for such a law. Commissioner Barb Venturi reminded the board that this type of vandalism has not been a problem in the past and that it would be in the best interest of the owners to clean up the building.

"It goes back to usage and if the owners want to rent or sell the building they need to make it look its best," said Venturi. Commissioner Dave White stated that a graffiti ordinance might be jumping the gun and noted that it would be difficult to actually define graffiti.

The Board voted 5-0 to table the proposal, in the stated vote that Ireland would have the graffiti covered by month's end.

Philippines to Pamlico: Bringing Change

By Townley Cheek

The average citizen in American probably does not know much about environmental science and the connections it has with most every aspect of our daily lives. Zac Schnell, Pamlico Community College's new environmental science instructor, wants to change that norm in Pamlico County.

Schnell graduated from North Carolina State University with a Bachelor of Science in Environmental Technology and Management. Upon graduation, Schnell entered the Masters International Program, where students can earn their Master's degree and be a Peace Corps volunteer. This July, Schnell graduated from N.C. State University with a Master of Natural Resources.

Schnell spent two years in Ferrol, Philippines, where he had two jobs. First, he was still a graduate student. He had to do his own research in preparation for his thesis. Secondly, he was a Coastal Resources Management Extension Worker in the Peace Corps.

While Schnell loved being able to do his own research while abroad, his favorite aspect of volunteering was his interactions with the local citizens and environment. As a volunteer he spent this time teaching environmental education in schools, assessing the quality of coral, caves, and mangroves, and writing grants to help improve the quality of life in the area.

Zac Schnell is passionate about environmental science, and he plans on using that passion to fuel his desire to make a difference in Pamlico County. When asked how he plans on doing just

New Stops, Speed Limits in Oriental

In response to complaints by residents of speeding drivers on Midyette Street Street, Oriental's Town Board approved a new traffic pattern which is now in place.

Town of Oriental Manager Diane Miller wants drivers to know there are now all-way stops on Midyette Street from Highway 55 to the Wildlife Ramp and a decrease in the speed limit from 25 mph to 15 mph for the entirety of Midyette Street.

A speed bump has also been installed at the site where rumble strips once were, just beyond the last entrance to Triton Yachts. The exception is on North Street which will remain a two-way stop at Midyette because it is a state road and signs are not permitted. Stop signs and speed limit signs have been installed and are being enforced. A speed bump is due to be installed this week. At that time, additional "bump ahead" signs will be installed. Miller also noted that Emergency Management has been notified of these changes.

A Reelsboro man has been arrested after he was found hiding in the very home he was allegedly trying to rob. Pamlico County Sheriff Deputies arrested Justin Kuzminski, age 23, last Tuesday night after responding to a call of a reported prowler on Leaf Lane in Reelsboro. WEEKLY HOROSCOPE

Aries (March 21-April 19)
Life looks great for you right now, especially with your job and your health. Important people are impressed with your efforts, which could lead to all kinds of benefits - praise, a raise, a better job, a promotion, and just a general, overall increased confidence in your abilities. Many of you will enjoy work-related travel and do something to expand your work contacts. Keep a bag packed because a spontaneous trip somewhere is almost a guarantee. Opportunities in publishing, the media, medicine, the law and higher education are also likely, possibly because you will run into an old boss or an important contact. Milk this, baby!

Taurus (April 20-May 20)
Without question, you have fantastic opportunities to explore a vacation this year, which many of you will do this week because of all the chances to travel. However, this same beneficial influence can promote your chances to take courses or get further training. Likewise, you can explore avenues in publishing, the media, medicine and the law. Financial matters favour you this week. In fact, an unexpected advantage, a gift, inheritance or favour will likely come to you. Mars is starting to oppose your sign, which means you have to be patient with loved ones. This is a good week to go after what you want!

Gemini (May 21-June 20)
This is a great week for you with respect to finances. It's especially favourable for all your discussions with others related to inheritances, insurance matters, shared property or how to divide something. It's a good time to make a bid for a loan or mortgage. It's an especially good time to wrap up old business regarding debt, mortgages and loans. In addition, your sexual energy will be strong. Wow, you really do want it all! Something unexpected but very sweet and affectionate will occur with a loved one, partner or close friend. (According to Esta Perel, "Sex isn't something you do - it's a place you go.") Admittedly, some of you will have to ask directions, especially now when your ruler Mercury is retrograde.

Cancer (June 21-July 22)
The Sun, retrograde Mercury and Pluto are all opposite your sign now. Partnerships and close friendships are favoured this week because this energy will attract ex-partners and old friends back into your world. But this week, these interactions look positive! You will explore more of your world through interaction with others. Yes, this can be fun; but also, you can use these relationships to further your best interests. This week, something unexpected will please you at work. It could be new high-tech equipment, a new coworker, a work-related romance, or a sudden chance to do something new.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22)
These wonderful positive vibes this week will enhance your health and bring advantages to your job. Work-related travel is likely. You can expand your reach in the world by enlarging your work contacts and meeting new people who are pleasant and helpful. In particular, you might be successful exploring new avenues in publishing, the media, medicine and the law. News from the past that impacts your work will delight you. The development of old ideas from the past might lead to future profits. Meanwhile, an unexpected invitation to a social occasion will be fun! A quick vacation, flirtation, and a chance to enjoy the arts will be exciting and educational. Romance will surprise!

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
This is a fantastic week for your sign! Stay elastic and flexible so that you can be ready to accept invitations to fun events, social occasions, sports, playful times with children and the arts. You might slip away for a quick vacation. Old flames are also back in the picture, which could be exciting - or not. This is a good week to make vacation plans, especially for someone you have been before. Meanwhile, something unexpected and delightful will impact your home. You might suddenly entertain friends and enjoy good times. Or you might buy something for your home that really pleases you. Unexpected real-estate news might also make your day. It's a good week!

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)
Your home is always important to you because your surroundings affect you. When you are pleased with how your home looks and feels - you feel better. This week something will happen that makes your home feel richer, bigger and more expansive. You might entertain at home. You might also buy something for your home that really pleases you. Family news might encourage you in some way. Likewise, real-estate news or news that impacts your home or your real-estate situation will be positive. Meanwhile, on top of this pleasant influence, you will meet new people, see new places and be delighted with something fresh and different! This is also a strong week for those of you who write, teach, market, sell and act because your mental faculties are bright, clever and original. "I'm so smart!"

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)
You will start to notice your energy increase now; and it will stay this way for months! This boost of energy is most unusual (Mars in your sign) so use it to your advantage. It will give you endurance, focus and stamina to accomplish a lot. Something will happen that increases your optimism about life this week. You will begin to feel more positive about your future because you enjoy what's happening on a daily basis all around you. Meanwhile, an unexpected opportunity to boost your earnings or even get a better job might fall in your lap. Wow! In the bigger picture, your positive frame of mind is your greatest asset right now.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)
This week holds lots of financial opportunities for you. Wake up and smell the coffee. Look for ways to get a better job or boost your current income or make money on the side. Work-related travel might lead to future profits. Your best chances will be with the business and opportunities you were previously considering. Now you can wrap up the deal or explore something in a fresh way - but it was something you had already been thinking about. Meanwhile, some of you will buy an unusual item of clothing or do something to your appearance that makes you feel younger and more with it! A new relationship with someone different and unusual might begin.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
This is a powerful week for you. The Sun, retrograde Mercury and Pluto are all in your sign getting a lovely boost from lucky, moneybags Jupiter. This means you have opportunities to expand something in the future. These opportunities could be about where you will live, where you work, or how you relate to others in your community. Whatever it is - it's all good. And you feel good about it! Many of you will jump on travel opportunities or chances to explore the media, publishing, medicine, the law and higher education. A new course or a particular study will delight you. Back in the boudoir, a secret love affair will start to percolate for some of you. In a nutshell, this is the week when you will expand your world in a fun way!

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)
In some ways, this is a low-key time for you, which is why you are busy working behind the scenes. Naturally, all this will change when your birthday arrives and you step out front and centre ready to fly your colours. Until then, explore quiet opportunities to boost your finances. The best opportunities will come to you through others - partners and close friends. In other words, your association with others will bring you money and wealth. Meanwhile, an unexpected interaction with someone new and different will expand your world. This could be a new friend or a new contact in a club or organization. This person will help you.

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20)
Your popularity is strong now! Everyone wants to see your face. Naturally, this builds by increasing contact with others, which means your relations with friends and people in group situations will expand in a positive way this week. You might travel with someone, especially with a group or a nonprofit society or a charitable organization. In fact, you are gung ho to travel this year - that's a fact! Meanwhile, an unexpected interaction with a boss, parent or someone in a position of authority will please you. You might even start a romance with a boss or a VIP. Whatever happens will surprise you and be out of the blue! Be open to new opportunities that come your way. (Don't be waiting at the train station for your ship to come in!)

PAWS Pamlico Animal Welfare Society

PAMLICO ANIMAL WELFARE SOCIETY (PAWS)
 "Helping the Helpless"
Spay and Neuter Assistance Program

PAWS provides low-cost spay and neuter assistance to those needing help to "fix" their pets. We issue vouchers for use at local vets, or at the Spay Today clinic in Greenville.

Our mission is to reduce the pet overpopulation problem in Pamlico County and surrounding areas by preventing hundreds of unwanted, innocent animals from being born. They are often neglected, abandoned or killed in shelters so altering your pets before they breed is the humane and common-sense solution.

We are here to help! Take action today!
 "Saving one animal doesn't change the world, but it changes the world for that one animal."

PAWS is an all-volunteer, non-profit, 501(c)(3) organization that relies solely on donations. Find out more about us and how you can help at PamlicoPAWS.net

Willkommen, Bienvenue, Welcome, Im Cabaret, au Cabaret, to Cabaret!

Cabaret will be shown Friday, January 15 at Orientals' Old Theater.

In Berlin in 1931, American cabaret singer Sally Bowles (Liza Minnelli) meets British academic Brian Roberts (Michael York), who is finishing his university studies. Despite Brian's confusion over his sexuality, the pair become lovers, but the arrival of the wealthy and decadent playboy Maximilian von Heune (Helmut Griem) complicates matters for them both. This love triangle plays out against the rise of the Nazi party and the collapse of the Weimar Republic.

Cabaret (1972) is musical film directed by Bob Fosse and starring Liza Minnelli, Michael York and Joel Grey. It's set in Berlin during the Weimar Republic in 1931, under the ominous presence of the growing Nazi Party.

The film is loosely based on the 1966 Broadway musical Cabaret by Kander and Ebb, which was adapted from the novel The Berlin Stories (1939) by Christopher Isherwood and the 1951 play I Am a Camera adapted from the same book. Only a few numbers from the stage score were used for the film; Kander and Ebb wrote new ones to replace those that were discarded. In the traditional manner of musical theater, every significant character in the stage version sings to express his/her own emotion and to advance the plot. In the film version, the musical numbers are entirely diegetic (occurring as part of the action rather than as background), and takes place inside the club, with one exception (Tomorrow Belongs to Me), the only song not sung by either the Emcee and/or Sally.

The film won the Academy Award for Best Director for Bob Fosse, Best Actress for Liza Minnelli, Best Supporting Actor for Joel Grey and five more technical awards. Today, Cabaret is considered one of the greatest musical films ever.

The Old Theater's box office opens at 6:30 p.m., doors open at 7:00 p.m. ~ movie begins at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $5.50 and includes free popcorn available at the Old Theater box office on movie night. The film will be preceded by a cartoon and the next episode of The Complete Adventures of Flash Gordon.

All proceeds of Friday Flicks go to the support of The Old Theater, a non-profit organization.

Jazz Artist Shana Tucker Inspires Pamlico County Students

Shana Tucker, who appeared at The Old Theater Friday night, inspired Pamlico County High School students and local residents with an informal and songwriting/composition workshop at the Pamlico County Library Friday afternoon.

Devoted to arts education for students of all ages, Tucker performed for the group, instructed them on song structure, and shared with the students her songwriting tips while facilitating their participation from the start. Tucker grew up in New York but now calls North Carolina home.

This outreach event was presented by the Pamlico Musical Society and made possible by a grant from the North Carolina Arts Council, a division of the Department of Cultural Resources.

Help Control County's Cat Population

Colonies of feral cats are springing up all over, and despite efforts of local groups and Craven/Pamlico Animal Control, not much progress has been made to reduce their numbers.

Unwanted kittens have been seen thrown from cars, and or even been plucked out of the river!

To help curb this overpopulation of unwanted kittens and puppies, all pet owners are strongly encouraged to have their furry friends altered. Low income Pamlico County pet-owners in need of financial assistance may apply to PAWS for vouchers to be used at local vets (252-745-PAWS), or take their pets to "Spay Today" in Greenville (252)321-8839.

Those wishing to support this effort may send donations to PAWS at P.O. Box 888, Oriental, NC 28571.

Oriental Woman's Club Kicks Off 100th Anniversary with the Annual Arts Fest

On January 17, the Oriental Woman's Club, OWC, will hold its annual Fine Arts Festival and Artfest from noon to 3pm at their clubhouse at 1009 Gilgo Rd., Oriental. The Festival, which began in 1948, will showcase work by students who reside in Pamlico County, club members and residents of regional special needs facilities.

Art forms include drawing, photography, painting, ceramics, metal work, wood, fabric craft, glass, jewelry, weaving and many others. Winners of this local event will move on to district competition to be held in Clayton, NC on February 6.

The annual event also includes performing arts. This year's competition was held on January 5. Performing two piano pieces was Miss Ingrid Watts of Oriental. She was accompanied at the presentation by her mother, Gail, and her instructor Dixie Gaitlin. Ingrid is a sophomore at the Epiphany School in New Bern. Ingrid will advance to the district competition to be held in Clayton, NC on February 6 where she will compete to advance to state competition held in March.

In addition to the club member entries several will be offering some of their work for sale. What is known today as the Oriental Woman's Club began in 1914 with eight ladies meeting to do needlecraft. While together they discussed the issues surrounding the community including sanitation, schools healthcare, and other pertinent issues. Within two years the group had grown to over twenty members and a decision was made to join the NC Federation of Woman's Clubs. Now, 100 years later we celebrate the founding members and the years of service provided to the community provided by past and present members.

The OWC continues to support local causes which run from supporting education thru scholarships, Relay for Life, Girls on the Run, the Coastal Woman's Shelter, Meals on Wheels to local high way clean up and many more.

Please join OWC as it celebrates its 100th year of service by attending this year's events.

ORIENTAL WOMAN'S CLUB Top Community Service Projects of the Last Century Women Together – Making a Difference

What is known today as the Oriental Woman's Club began in 1914 with eight ladies meeting to do hand-work. They talked about the need for better sanitation, schools, healthcare, and other things in the community. Two years later there were over 20 members and they decided to join the NC Federation of Woman's Clubs. Now 100 years later we can celebrate these founding members and the accomplishments of the Club.

- During the 1920s the Club worked hard to get what we know today as the Duck Pond cleaned up as it was being used as the Town Dump. In 1923, Club members planted a memorial tree on waterfront land donated by Lou Midyette and L.F. McCabe – the birth of LOU-MAC Park.
- During World War I, Club members provided books to soldiers on their way overseas and knitted sweaters, scarves and hats for soldiers. During WWII, members engaged in Plane Spotting and contributed to the American Red Cross.
- In 1922, Club members began care of the Blackwell Point Cemetery originally known as the Oriental Tranquil Cemetery. This project exists to this day with funds received from donations and a Perpetual Care Plan invested with interest used for maintenance of the grounds.
- Since 1948 Club members have supported an annual Arts Festival for students, clubwomen and children/adults with developmental disabilities.
- In 1977, Club members began construction on land donated by The Dolphin Company of the present day clubhouse on Gilgo Road. The building and furnishings were accomplished without a bank loan. Clubhouse rentals help defray operating costs.
- The Club annually honors three Pamlico County High School seniors with scholarships amounting to $3,500.
- In 1980, the Oriental Junior Woman's Club organized the first Croaker Festival. Today these women, now an evening division of OWC known as Ladies of the Neuse, make trophies and judge the parade.
- Club members have picked up litter on a two-mile stretch of Highway 55 through Oriental under the NC Department of Transportation Adopt-A-Highway program for over 25 years.
- Club members have participated with the Meals-on-Wheels program since the mid-1990s scheduling and delivering meals to the homebound in Oriental.
- In 1999, Club members took the lead to involve Oriental as a Host Town for athletes preparing for the Special Olympics World Summer Games in Raleigh. The Club raised funds, arranged transportation, housing, meals and recreation for a 4-day stay of 28 athletes and coaches from Gambia and Turkey.
- In 2000, members helped bring the ACS Relay for Life to Pamlico County.
- In 2008, Club members spearheaded the establishment of the Girls on the Run program in Pamlico County that promotes self-esteem and healthy life styles in young girls.
- The Club has a long history with the Coastal Women's Shelter collecting needed items for the safe house. Domestic Violence Awareness is the signature project of the General Federation of Woman's Club, the international organization the OWC is affiliated with.

The Oriental Woman's Club is a non-profit 501(c)(3) organization. Contributions are tax deductible.

New Military Genealogy Tool Now at Library

All ten member libraries of the Craven-Pamlico-Carteret Regional Library now provide free public access to FOLD3, a resource of US military records, including the stories, photos, and personal documents of the men and women who served from the Revolutionary War to recent conflicts in Iraq and Afghanistan.

The Fold3 name comes from the traditional flag folding ceremony in which the third fold is made in honor and remembrance of veterans who served in defense of their country and to maintain peace throughout the world.

FOLD3 provided Lydia Davis, Library Technician at the Carteret County Public Library (Beaufort) and her family with surprising news. "The very first time I used FOLD3," Ms. Davis says, "I found the name of the submarine my grandfather was on in World War II. No one in the family knew this before."

Access to FOLD3 is available at any computer in the ten libraries; remote access is also available for patrons with library cards.

Funding for FOLD3 is made possible by the Friends of Carteret County Public Library, Craven County Genealogy Society, Friends of Pamlico County Library, Pamlico County Genealogy Club, Friends of Newport Public Library, and several donations from individuals. "We are grateful to these organizations and individuals for making this important resource available to the citizens of our three counties," says Susan Simpson, Regional Library Director.

For more information contact your local library in Bayboro (745-3515).

Channeling Howard Hughes

Maureen Donald
The Editor's Desk

Lately I've been channeling Howard Hughes. Yes, I said Howard Hughes - the American business magnate, investor, aviator, aerospace engineer, film maker, philanthropist and one of the wealthiest people in the world - none of which applies to me, to say the least.

No I haven't been channeling the younger extremely rich and successful Hughes, I find myself slowly inching towards his later life when he developed an extreme fear of germs. I'm not sure if it's simply the time of year when we hear all about the flu or just that the older I get the more cognizant I seem to be about spreading "bad stuff." Whichever or whatever, lately I've been drawn to the drug store aisle that features masks and white cotton gloves.

Just the other day I nearly ran down the aisle at the market to avoid a fellow shopper coughing into the cookie shelves - good thing we gave up sweets as a New Year's resolution. I'm now totally aware if someone has the manners to cough into a tissue or cover their mouth with a hand or arm.

My gradual journey into the land of sanitation apparel was bolstered at the doctor's office the other day.

(Quick note here: if at all possible, stay away from medical facilities, especially during cold and flu season - this is where all germs find a home.)

Back to bolstering. As I walked towards the receptionist (now I know why they are behind glass partitions), I noticed a stack of surgical masks on the counter with a sign that read "If you have flu symptoms, please wear a mask to protect other patients."

Almost immediately, I came up with a better idea - how about if all the healthy people wear one to prevent getting the flu?

I like this idea a lot better than depending on someone else wearing a mask if they have symptoms - yes, I realize this concept could be linked to control issues. Issues aside, doesn't that make better sense?

Why would I depend on a stranger to help me stay well? Like it or not there are mean, or if you insist on looking for the best in people, uninformed folks out there. Can't you just imagine some jerk walking around knowing they are getting sick, feeling miserable, thinking that everything is wrong with the world. Do you really believe this person is concerned with making sure you don't catch whatever it is they've got? I think not.

Let's face it, like it or not, a lot of people simply don't care all that much about strangers getting sick because of them. Understand

I'm not saying sick people are doing this on purpose (except for a perverse few) - they just aren't thinking about you because they are too busy thinking about how terrible they feel.

At one time, the idea of walking around wearing a surgical mask would have been out of the question. Now it's definitely under consideration. Same for gloves.

I've become so obsessed with germs that I've found a bright side to cold weather. Yes, it's gloves. Now in addition to using those handy pop-up wipes at store entrances, I put my winter gloves back on before shopping. Warm weather will be a challenge but I'm hoping the fashion world will bring white gloves back into style. Remember crinolines, poodle skirts and white gloves? I'll skip the former two, but could definitely get into the white glove thing again.

All this said, the serious side of all this is that we really can make a difference when it comes to spreading germs. Without getting "too Howard Hughes" about it - simply wash your hands a lot, try not to cough or sneeze without covering up and keep your hands away from your face.

Meanwhile if white masks and gloves suddenly become the latest fashion trend, remember you heard it here first. And everyone thought Howard Hughes was simply a hopeless eccentric.

We should all be as eccentric.

Making Sense of Investing

"Be prepared" is the Scout motto, and it's also pretty good advice for anyone seeking to guard against various disasters - including financial ones.

Here are some events that can have serious financial consequences, along with suggestions on preparing yourself:

- Loss of employment - If you were to lose your job, your family might have to struggle financially to make it until you're employed again. To protect against this potential threat, try to build an emergency fund containing three to six months' worth of living expenses. That's a lot of money, of course, so it will be challenging to build such a fund - but try to contribute something each month to a liquid, low-risk account. Without such an emergency fund, you might be forced to cash out your 401(k) or other retirement plan to pay for your living expenses during your period of unemployment.

- Loss of health - If you were ill or injured, you might be out of work for weeks or months. Your employer may offer you some type of disability insurance as an employee benefit, but it might not be sufficient. So you may also want to purchase an individual plan to cover as much of your after-tax income as possible. You'll have the flexibility to create a policy that is tailored to your needs, budget and overall financial goals. However, policies vary widely in cost and benefits, so you'll want to shop around for the coverage that best meets your needs.

- Loss of life - Death may be an uncomfortable topic to discuss. However, if you were to pass away, it would be emotionally devastating to your loved ones - but it could also be financially catastrophic. Would your family still be able to pay the mortgage? Could your surviving spouse afford to send your kids to college? Without life insurance, your death could leave your family without the ability to cover financial obligations. The exact amount you require depends on a variety of factors, such as your family's expenses, size of family, savings needs over time, and so on. Generally speaking, you can choose between two broad categories of insurance: term and permanent. Term insurance, as the name suggests, is designed for a specific number of years and only provides a death benefit. Permanent insurance is typically more expensive, because, in addition to the death benefit, it offers a savings component. A financial professional can help guide you through your options to determine which one is appropriate for your needs.

- Loss of property - If you own a home, you already have homeowners insurance, but it doesn't hurt to periodically check your policy to make sure it's kept up with any improvements or additions you've made to your house or other property. If you're under-covered, and had to pay out-of-pocket for some major damage, you might be forced to dip into your long-term investments. And while you're making sure your property is covered, you might also want to consider adding "umbrella" coverage, which can provide extra protection to you in case someone is injured at your home, or even at an event at which you may be in charge, such as a Scout meeting.

With luck, you can avoid all the threats to your financial security and that of your family. But you can't count on always being lucky - so you need to take "financial disaster preparedness" measures soon.

Travel Club Banned from Face-to-Face Marketing

Attorney General
Roy Cooper

• Many Festiva Adventure Club members will get refunds, have contracts cancelled

A travel club that promised members great savings on trips but failed to deliver is now banned from face-to-face sales in the state for three years and must pay refunds, Attorney General Roy Cooper said today.

"People who wanted affordable family vacations instead got stuck with a costly travel club membership that they could hardly even use, and they deserve better," Cooper said.

Under a settlement with Cooper's office, Festiva Development Group of Nevada will pay $286,144 for consumer refunds and reform the way it markets travel club memberships in North Carolina, including being banned from marketing in person in the state for three years.

Festiva, based in Asheville, sold and marketed memberships for Festiva Adventure Clubs at resorts in locations such as Atlantic Beach, Banner Elk, and Charleston. According to consumers who complained to Cooper's Consumer Protection Division, the company used aggressive marketing tactics, promising them a free hotel stay, free laptop or free dinner to attend a 90-minute sales presentation.

Consumers say instead they got a high-pressure sales pitch that misrepresented the costs and benefits of purchasing the travel club membership. While they were told the membership meant discounted stays at in-demand resorts, consumers found that rooms were not available to book as promised and complained that the reservation system was difficult to use. One consumer tried six times to book travel through Festiva and each time was told nothing was available—unless he paid an extra fee.

Consumer refunds

Under a settlement reached last week, several North Carolina

consumers who purchased Festiva memberships but were unable to book travel when they tried to will be able to get money back. The amount of individual refunds will vary depending on how much consumers paid, whether or not they were able to use the membership when they tried to, and what problems they experienced. Fees to join Festiva ranged from $5,000 to as much as $20,000. Some consumers will also be eligible under the settlement to have their contracts with Festiva cancelled, saving them ongoing annual fees of around $500-$1,500.

North Carolina consumers who purchased a Festiva Adventure Club membership and had problems using it should file a complaint with the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division online at ncdoj.gov or by calling 1-877-5-NO-SCAM toll free within North Carolina. Consumers who file a complaint by February 29, 2016 will be considered for refunds and cancellation of contracts. Consumers who have already filed complaints with Cooper's office about Festiva will automatically be considered for refunds and do not need to file again.

Reforms to Festiva marketing

In addition to money back to consumers, the agreement bars Festiva from face-to-face or in-person marketing in North Carolina for three years and requires the company to make a number of permanent changes to the way it does business in the state.

Under the agreement, Festiva cannot:

- Make false or deceptive statements to consumers about the availability of resorts or the amount of money consumers can save by purchasing a travel club membership.
- Misrepresent, directly or indirectly, the cost of its service.
- Trick consumers to get them to attend a sales pitch by misrepresenting the nature of the presentation.
- Cannot falsely claim that consumers have won a prize or been specially selected to receive a Festiva membership.
- Use fake names or imply that it is a government agency or a trade association.

About travel clubs

While there are some legitimate travel club memberships, consumers who pay to join a travel club frequently complain that it doesn't meet their expectations.

"Beautiful pictures of exciting vacation destinations can be tempting, but many travel club offers don't live up to the hype," Cooper said. "Think carefully before you pay for a travel club to be sure you're getting a good deal."

If you're considering purchasing a travel club membership:

- Be skeptical of any company operating out of a temporary location like a motel room.
- Beware of high-pressure sales pitches or offers that are good today only.
- Find out how easy the membership is to use, and investigate the places it would allow you to stay.
- Determine if it would actually save you money. Consider all fees and costs, and how often you would realistically use the travel club.

Goose Creek Island

55 Plus Club

Goose Creek Island 55 Plus Club met Thursday at the Community Center. Special guest were Joshua and Alberta Potter of Arapahoe. Josh spoke of his early years on Lowland and attending Hobucken School. He recalled that there were four school buses from Lowland and one from Mesic. He even remembers the bus numbers and recalled some of the shenanigans that took place on the bus rides. Josh and Charlene Allsbrook were mascots, class of 1948. He won the Spelling Bee in the 8th grade and was class valedictorian. He told how he got the nickname "Muff." In the sixth grade the teacher was reading to the class from Tom Sawyer and there was a character named Muff Potter. Of course, all the boys began to call Junior Potter, Muff! and it stuck! Josh gave a delightful presentation and brought back lots of fun memories of days at Hobucken School. Next week is Bingo Day. We were pleased to have Edwin Ireland attend the meeting. Also, it was great to have Lottie Caroon back with us, as well as Rita Lupton who was not feeling well last week. After we dismissed, Josh and Alberta decided to stay and join Mildred, Brenda and I in a Scrabble game. Actually we played three hard fought, very tight games and Mildred was proclaimed champ and had the honor of taking "Herbie" home for the week. We surely enjoyed having Muff and Alberta with us. Gave us a chance to hash over some old stuff!

Prayer List: Bobby Lewis is scheduled for a hernia operation. Jeff Honeycutt is having further radiation treatments. Linda Carawan fell a few weeks ago and is still recuperating. Musa Voliva Harris is presently a rehab patient at Pruitt's Health Care in New Bern. Herbert Fulford is undergoing a medical procedure this week. Please continue to remember Phil Williamson, Troy Potter, Jr. Benji Voliva and Dorothy Lee. Please keep Lottie and the Caroon family and the Woodard family in your prayers.

Happy Birthday: Trey Sadler - Jan 9, Christopher Jones and Scarlett Bonner - Jan 15, Gladys Henries Shelton and Ruth Ireland - Jan 16, Madison Sadler and Addie Ireland - Jan 17, Rita Henries Gray, Sherry Lynn Styron Jones, Marjorie Watson Eggleston and Forrest Williams - Jan 18, Amber Nethercutt and Andrew John Lozica, Jr. - Jan 19, Rita Sadler Olmstead, Emma Gaye Sadler Lupton, Makayla Phillips and Lana Gail Balance Zechner - Jan 20.

Hazel Alcock came to visit today with a beautiful homemade floral arrangement comprised of many kinds of flowers in a variety of colors to place on Bennie's headstone. She shopped for special flowers and made the arrangement. Such a special gesture that I appreciated so very much. Thank you Hazel. Frank is on a hunting trip in Hyde County.

Pamlico Middle School Girl's Basketball team played Grover C. Field Thursday afternoon at home. The score was 33-11 in favor of Pamlico. The big play of the game was a three-pointer hit by Ashley Flowers. Way to go Ashley. We're so proud of you. That new basketball goal for Christmas is sure paying off!

Goose Creek Island Com. Dev. Inc. will hold a quarterly meeting Tuesday, Jan 19, 7:00 pm at the Community Center in Hobucken. Everyone is encouraged attend.

The weather is going to turn cold this week so bundle up and stay warm. This changeable weather from day-to-day makes it difficult to know how to dress for going outside. I think many people are experiencing cold-like symptoms due to this. I was blessed to finally be able to go to the Village Club again for a little exercise this weekend. I love the sign there that says, "Getting old is not for sissies." I identify with that statement more and more each day.

My doctor has finally given permission for me to try and get back to a normal routine. It is nice to be out and about again in 2016. I have met so many who have been praying for me and several of the Pamlico Chorale members have told me they have been missing me singing with them. I am grateful for all the cards, prayers, phone calls and visits. I am progressing slowly, but Praise the Lord I was able to be back in the pulpit on Sunday. It was wonderful to be with my church family and it was especially nice to have Pearl Ford Smith and her daughter Gracie sing special music for the service. It was indeed a joy to have the entire Steve Smith family worship with us at Aurora United Methodist Church.

In the Pamlico area there are others besides Joan Ford, Ann Stackhouse, and I who continue to covet the prayers of their neighbors and friends. It is a small community and when one of us is in need, we all care about our neighbors and their well-being. That is one of the things that make Pamlico so special.

Broad Creek United Church of Christ had a good turnout for their service this week; they were still worshipping when I arrived home on Sunday afternoon.

There is an exciting program coming up on January 19 in the Prime Time Lunch and Learn series. Please join them for a great Lunch and Learn on Tuesday, January 19, 11:30am at Oriental United Methodist Church Fellowship Hall. The OUMC Friendship Circle will serve their "world famous" lasagna (by donation) and Faye Bond will give a program on Oriental: Then and Now.

Faye's family founded the town and she will share bits of town history and tell us about some important and interesting town characters as well as some hilarious stories from the heart of the village. Don't miss this exciting opportunity to hear how this town we all love came to be what it is today! Please call Freda Watson at 249-0213 to reserve your seat.

Celebrating birthdays in January are Elizabeth Farmer Tillman (1/15), Kelli Hinson and Ruth Ireland (1/16), Ned Ferris (1/21), Kate Moye and Jenny Lupton (1/22), and Shari Roberts Hale (1/31). A wonderful couple, Paul and Dora Brady will celebrate their anniversary on January 14. Best wishes to all of them.

Have a blessed week. eXhausted? Take Spiritual Vitamin X. "But refuse profane and old wives' fables, and eXercise thyself rather unto godliness." (1Timothy 4:7)

Whortonsville

Reba Tiller

It's a chilly Monday morning, but the sun is shining and no reports of rain, and that is a very good thing! Don't know when we will ever be able to do any cleanup in the yard because of the soggy soil.

Last week started on a very sad note as many of us attended the funeral of Mary Clyde Dunn. She was a wonderful lady who gave so freely of her time, especially in the music area.

On Monday evening the Pamlico Chorale held their annual meeting with a social hour and election of officers. On Tuesday traveled to Goldsboro to carry grandson Jacob to meet his father. Had not been that way in over a year and discovered an Olive Garden had been built at the mall and a Walmart out this side of Goldsboro.

Talked to Minda Harris about her son and the news was good that he was doing much better. Had someone here on Wednesday to find out if we had squirrels in our attic because we were hearing a lot of action overhead. Eric Bryan stopped by on Thursday to pick up some homemade rolls as he headed out to school in Charlotte.

Anne Watson is getting the program together for the Chorale. She will be directing the Spring Concert with a tiny little input from me. She has done such a great job and I appreciate that she stepped in for me when I had two major operations. We invite new members to attend rehearsals at the Oriental U. Methodist Church on Monday evening at 7:00p.m.

Another death of a friend last weekend. Rowena Miller died after a lengthy illness. Rowena was a member of the 60+ Club for several years. Spoke with Jane L'Hommedieu and she is getting radiation five days a week for her cancer. Jane was one of the Whortonsville Quilters and also a long time member of the chorale. Church attendance at Bethel was down on Sunday. We had one child, Margo, who is the granddaughter of Fran and Darlene Law.

On Sunday afternoon I attended Dixie Gatlin's Piano and Violin Recital at Stonewall Church. Mattie Cuthrell played the piano and did very well. It brought back memories of my recitals back in Durham many years ago.

Thought for the week --If you want to test your memory, try to remember what you were worrying about one year ago today.

for education," said Heath of past president, Cleve Cox. Brandi McCullough is Director of Planning and Research and Effectiveness at Pamlico County College. She also serves as a Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS) Liaison. The SACS mission is to ensure educational quality. Brandi asked the Board to consider someone that is intimately aware of the principals of accreditation. "Our next interim review will be in September of 2018 and we need to comply with the accreditation standards and remain strong with SACS," said McCullough. The President Search Committee is comprised of students, faculty, staff, and citizens. The Board of Trustees approved Dr. Donny Hunter of the North Carolina Community College Trustee Association as presidential search consultant. Dr. Hunter also led Pamlico's 2008 search for a president. According to Dr. Hunter the forums are the first step in the search process. He described the process as open and commended Board for holding these forums. Now that the presidential profile of desired traits and characteristics is almost complete the college will soon begin to advertise the position which came available in 2015 when then president, Cleve Cox, retired due to a lengthy illness. Maria Fraser-Molina, the college's vice president of Instructional Services, currently serves as the interim president. A screening committee will then begin to accept applications and through their due diligence will narrow the number of prospects down to six. The Board will then come to a consensus on which candidate they want to negotiate with for the position. "This is a simple process, but not simplistic. The college president will be one of the leaders of this community," said Dr. Hunter.

that he replied with, "Let me tell you a story."
"Within the first month of being in the Philippines, I met a group of local children. They all wanted to know why I had traveled to their town from America. Being in education, I explained what I did in a way that the children would understand. A few days passed and I saw one of the children. He was around six or seven. He looked at me and said, 'How are the fish doing today?' It was that simple conversation," Schnell says. "That had that big of an impact on a child who had never heard of coastal resources management and did not know a thing about the environment."

While simple, this explanation shows the new, fresh perspective Schnell will bring to the Environmental Science program at PCC. "I want to bring that sort of awakening, interest, and passion to Pamlico Community College, for the students and for the county," Schnell says.

Schnell plans on being involved with the community, traveling to local schools and teaching environmental education through visual, hands-on interaction. "Hopefully," he says "it will help bring an environmental science background to the children and spark an interest."

There are many rewarding and fulfilling careers in environmental science, but many people just do not know the options. Schnell, with his friendly and passionate personality, hopes to change that as well. "There are so many opportunities in this field," he says. "If you decide to become a student in the Environmental Science program at PCC, I guarantee that you will be prepared for a career in the field, whether that career takes you down the road, or to the Philippines."

If you would like to learn more about the Environmental Science program at PCC, please contact Zac Schnell at zschnell@pamlicocc.edu or 252-249-1851 x 3115. As always, you can stop by our main campus, 5049 NC HWY 306 S, and visit with student services to discuss scholarship opportunities, financial aid, and childcare options to help with the transition to higher education.

What's To Eat?

OVERNIGHT BEEF CASSEROLE

This is a great make ahead dish.

- 1 package/jar (4-oz.) dried beef, shredded
- 1/2 pound Monterey Jack cheese, grated
- 1 small onion, chopped
- 2 cans cream of mushroom soup, undiluted
- 1-3/4 cup milk
- 2 cups uncooked macaroni

Mix all ingredients and pour into a large, greased baking dish and refrigerate overnight. Bake, covered, for one hour in 350 degree oven.

BAKED BEEF STEW

- 2 pounds beef, cut into 1/2-inch pieces
- 2 cups onions, chopped
- 2 cups potatoes, peeled and cut in half
- 2 cups fresh carrots, scraped and cut in chunks
- 2 cups celery, cut in chunks
- 1 jar (3-oz.) mushrooms
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 4 tablespoons Minute Tapioca
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 2 cups V-8 juice, mixed with 2 tablespoons beef bouillon dissolved in 1/2 cup water

Place all above ingredients in a roasting pan with a tight fitting lid. Bake in 250 degree oven for 5 hours - do not stir. When done, the gravy will be thick and brown. Serves 8.

For crock pot: Spray inside of crock pot with non-stick spray. Place all above ingredients inside and cook on LOW for 11 hours.

CHEESE BAKE

- 8 slices white sandwich bread
- Butter or margarine
- 1/2 pound ground beef
- 1/4 cup onions, chipped
- 2 tablespoons chopped celery
- 1 tablespoon prepared mustard
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup grated sharp Cheddar cheese
- 1 egg, slightly beaten
- 3/4 cup milk
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Dash of pepper
- 1/8 teaspoon dry mustard

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Toast the bread and then butter both sides. Cook and stir the ground beef until crumbled and brown and the onions are tender. Alternate layers of buttered toast, meat mixture and cheese in a generously buttered 9x9x2-inch baking pan. Mix remaining ingredients and pour over the layers in the pan. Bake, uncovered, for 30 or 35 minutes. Serves 6.

GOURMET MEAT LOAF

- 1 can mushroom pieces, drained
- 1/2 cup onions, finely chopped
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1/3 cup sour cream
- 1-1/2 pounds ground beef
- 3/4 cup quick or old-fashioned uncooked oats
- 1 egg
- 2 teaspoons salt
- Pepper to taste
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 2/3 cup milk

Filling:

In a skillet, lightly brown the mushrooms and onions in margarine or butter. Remove from heat and stir in sour cream.

Meatloaf:

Thoroughly combine all remaining ingredients. Place half of the meat mixture in shallow baking pan. Shape to form an oval base. Lengthwise down the center make a shallow "well" for the filling, spoon filling into the "well". Shape remaining meat mixture over filling and make sure all filling is covered. Seal bottom and top of meat mixtures together and bake in 350 degrees for about 1 hour. Serves 6.

CHICKEN CORDON BLEU

- 3 whole chicken breasts, skinned, boned and halved
- 6 slices boiled ham
- 6 slices Swiss cheese
- 1 can cream of chicken soup
- All-purpose flour
- Salt and pepper, to taste
- Vegetable oil or butter

Pound each chicken breast until thin. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and then dredge in flour to coat both sides. Top each slice of chicken with a slice of ham and a slice of cheese. Roll up and secure with toothpicks. In a large skillet, heat oil or butter and brown the chicken on all sides. Remove from skillet and place in baking dish. Spoon the cream of chicken soup over all, cover, and bake in 350 degree oven until tender - about 25 minutes.

ORIENTAL PORK CHOPS

- 8 pork chops
- 1/3 cup soy sauce
- 2 tablespoons honey
- 1 medium onion, finely chopped or thinly slices and separated into rings
- 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger
- Dash of pepper
- 2 tablespoons shortening or oil

In a large skillet, heat the shortening or oil, add the pork chops and brown on both sides. Place chops in a baking dish. Combine remaining ingredients and pour over the meat. Cover with foil and bake in 325 degree oven about 1 hour. Garnish with finely cut spring onions and serve with a side dish of rice.

- 2 large onions, chopped
- 5 tablespoons oil or butter
- 1 tablespoon paprika
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 cups water
- 1 cup sour cream

Sauté the onions in the butter or oil until golden brown on all sides. Stir in paprika and simmer three or four minutes. Dust the chicken with salt and place in with the onions, paprika and margarine. Add water and simmer, covered, until tender. Just before serving, remove pan from heat, cook slightly and then stir in the sour cream.

HONEY & SOY CHICKEN WINGS

- 3 pounds chicken wings
- 1 cup honey
- 1/2 cup soy sauce
- 2 cloves garlic, crushed

- 2 tablespoons catsup
- 1 teaspoon ginger

Cut wings into three pieces and discard the small end. Spread wings in a shallow baking dish or pan. Combine remaining ingredients and pour over chicken. Bake in 350 degree oven for about 1 hour or until tender.

GOLDEN HONEY-GLAZED CHICKEN

- 1 frying chicken, cut up
- 1/2 cup Lea & Perrins White Wine Worcestershire
- 3 tablespoons honey

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Rinse and pat chicken pieces dry. Place chicken on a rack in a shallow baking pan. In a mixing bowl, combine the Lea & Perrins White Wine Worcestershire and the honey. Coat chicken pieces with mixture and bake 35 to 40 minutes, basting occasionally, until chicken is done and golden. Serves 4.

NOTE: Also delicious for Cornish hens and turkey.

CRUNCHY ONION-TOPPED CHICKEN BAKE

- 2 cups cooked chicken, cubed

- 1 bag (16-oz.) frozen broccoli, carrots and cauliflower vegetable combination, thawed and drained
- 1 cup grated Cheddar cheese
- 1 can (2.8-oz.) French fried onions
- 1 package (4-oz.) refrigerator crescent rolls

Combine the soup, milk, salt, chicken, vegetables, 1/2 cup of the cheese and 1/2 can of the French fried onions, blend, and place in a buttered 8x12-inch baking dish. Cover with foil and bake in 375 degree oven for 20 minutes. Unwrap crescent rolls, separate into two rectangles, and press together perforated cuts. Cut each rectangle lengthwise into 3 strips. Place strips on casserole to form a lattice top. Bake, uncovered, for 15 more minutes. Remove from oven and sprinkle with remaining cheese and onions, return to oven, uncovered, and bake 5 minutes longer or until onions are golden brown. Serves 6.

BARBECUED PORK STEW

- 2 pounds lean boneless fresh pork, cut into 1-1/2-inch cubes
- 1 can (16-oz.) crushed tomatoes, undrained
- 3/4 cup barbecue sauce

- 2 tablespoons cider vinegar
- 1 tablespoon chili powder
- 6 or 8 drops Tabasco
- 2 medium onions, cut into 6 or 8 wedges
- 1 large green pepper, seeded and cut into 1/2-inch chunks

In a large heavy pot or Dutch oven, combine the tomatoes, barbecue sauce, water, bouillon, vinegar, chili powder and Tabasco and bring to a boil over high heat. When liquid boils, add the onions, green peppers and pork, stir, boil for 1 minute. Reduce heat to low, cover pot, leaving lid slightly ajar, and simmer for 1-1/2 to 2 hours or until meat is tender and sauce is thick. Serves 6.

- 5 or 6 cups water dissolved with several chicken bouillon cubes
- 1 tablespoon fresh basil or 1/2 tablespoon dry basil
- 1 cup prepared Hidden Valley Ranch Original Ranch Salad Dressing
- 2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
- Fresh parsley, snipped

Steam the carrots, broccoli and pea pods together until crisp-tender. Cook the fettuccine in chicken broth just until tender - drain and cool. Combine the vegetables, pasta. Add the basil to the salad dressing and toss gently into pasta. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese and snipped fresh parsley.

January is National School Board Appreciation Month

In North Carolina, special events take place in January for National School Board Appreciation Month. The North Carolina School Boards Association (NCSBA) sponsors this annual recognition.

Pamlico County Schools is joining with other districts throughout North Carolina to recognize the important contribution school board members make to their communities.

"We benefit every day from the dedicated energies and countless hours devoted by a group of over 700 men and women across North Carolina," said Lisa Jackson, Superintendent of Pamlico County Schools. "Board members unselfishly contribute their time and talents toward the advancement of public education."

Ms. Jackson added, "Even though we are making a special effort during January to show appreciation to our school board members, we recognize their contributions reflect a year-round commitment on their part. They are dedicated individuals who are committed to the continuing success of our school district and students."

The district will recognize Board members throughout the month of January. We are asking all local citizens to take a moment to tell a school Board member, "thanks for caring about our children's education."

The men and women serving Pamlico County Schools are as follows: Kari Hammond, Judy Humphries, and Beatrice Mays, front row, and Paul Delamar, Jr., Gene Dudley (Vice Chairman), John Prescott (Chairman) and John McCotter, III, back row.

Lady Canes Continue Winning Streak Into New Year

In Monday's league outing, the Pamlico County Hurricanes girls basketball squad overwhelmed the host Jones Senior Trojan, by a margin of 54-24. Congratulations to Pamlico's #23, Laichelle Sparrow for being named Player of the Game. "It was a big night for the senior post," said head coach April Rose of her star center.

The girls went on to beat Bear Grass Charter School in a home conference game last Wednesday. It was another big night for Sparrow. She was the lead scorer with 23 points. Hurricane's #22 Leetasia Midgette netted 9 and #30 Zyaja Mattocks and #32 Hydia David both had 8. On Friday the girls went on to beat the Southside Seahawks by a score of 66-24. Laichelle Sparrow netted 19 points, Briana Jones had 10 and Jainaya Jones had 9. The Lady Canes, now 13-3 overall and 4-0 in the conference will face the East Carteret Mariners with an overall record of 5-6 and 4-0 in the conference, in a home conference game this Friday at 6 p.m.

The Jones Senior Trojans boys basketball team felled the visiting Pamlico Hurricanes by a score of 57-48 in last Monday's league test. The Canes redeemed themselves in Wednesday's conference game against Bear Grass Charter School. In the league match the host, Pamlico County Hurricanes basketball team scored a decisive triumph over the Bear Grass Bears with a final score of 59-31. The boys fell to the Southside Seahawks by a score of 71-54 in Fridays away, conference game. Now 7-8 overall and 2-2 in the conference, the Hurricanes will face the East Carteret Mariners, 12-1 overall and 4-0 in the conference this Friday in a home conference game at 4 p.m.

Being Prepared

Capt. Steve Kenney leads the Winter Lecture Series at Worldwide Marine in Oriental Saturday. The program is designed to provide information to the recreational boater, seasoned cruiser and licensed mariner. This week's lecture was on Marine Safety Equipment and its use and included demonstrations on life rafts, survival /immersion suits, EPIRBs, and other gear. The group discussed emergency procedures for abandoning ship, survival at sea and using the right equipment for the right job.

Capt. Reg Fidoe
Worldwide
Marine

If the Neuse River is 18,714 feet across between Windmill Point in Oriental and Winthrop Point at Adams Creek, how many miles wide is it? Well, it's both 3.1 "nautical" miles and 3.6 "statute" miles. A nautical mile is 6,076.1 feet and a statute mile is 5,280 feet. A nautical mile is roughly 15% greater in length than a statute mile. For an approximate conversion, you can multiply statute miles by .87 to convert to nautical miles. Multiply nautical miles by 1.15 to convert to statute miles.

Generally, statute miles are used on land and fresh water. Nautical charts of saltwater bodies express distances in nautical miles, with some exceptions in inland coastal areas. One such exception is the Intracoastal Waterway. On ICW charts, there is a magenta colored line, which marks the ICW route. The line is labeled with "St M" every five statute miles along its route. In Gale Creek, south of Hobucken, you can see the designation "St M 160" and in the Neuse River the designation "St M 180" offshore of Oriental. Not all charts show the ICW route. Those that do are labeled with the term "Intracoastal Waterway" in the title block.

When calculating your speed, be sure to know whether it is based on nautical or statute miles. Speed in nautical miles is expressed in "knots." A knot is one "nautical mile per hour." By the way, there is no such thing as "knots per hour", since that would actually be "nautical miles per hour per hour." Speed in statute miles is expressed in "miles per hour." Based on the approximate conversion factors, 10 knots is equal to 11.5 miles per hour, and 10 miles per hour is equal to 8.7 knots.

The 15% difference can be significant when calculating things like your estimated time of arrival and fuel consumption, just to name a few. 15% may not seem like much until an erroneous calculation causes you to run out of fuel, miss the last bridge opening of the day, or watch the sun go down before you reach your destination. As in all areas of good seamanship, any lack of accuracy can cause you some sort of trouble.

The length of a nautical mile has been disputed over the years. Through the course of history, based on differences in the "assumed" size and shape of the earth, the nautical mile was measured in different lengths around the world.

The dispute over the length of the nautical mile is understandable. There are a total of 360 degrees and 60 nautical miles per degree. Each time the circumference of the earth was calculated differently, the length of the nautical mile was redefined. The earth is approximately an oblate spheroid. It is not a perfect sphere and has a greater circumference at the equator than it does at most other places. Depending on what region of the world was being studied, the circumference measurement varied.

In 1954, the U.S. Departments of Commerce and Defense adopted 6,076.1 feet as the length of the nautical mile. Most maritime nations have agreed and adopted the same length. That leaves the rest of us with one less thing to worry about.

Until next time, I wish fair winds and may the depth of water always exceed the draft of your vessel.

Captain Reg Fidoe is the chief instructor of World Wide Marine Training, Inc., a U.S. Coast Guard Approved facility authorized to give examinations for captain's licenses up to 200 Ton Master, Able Seaman up to Unlimited, STCW, and other Endorsements. In addition we offer CPR/First Aid classes on the first Saturday of each month (www.wegivethetest.com or call toll-free 866-249-2135).

Ask the Aquarium

Q. I found an unusual shell near a rock jetty. It's round like a globe, kind of pinkish and about the size of a large walnut with a large hole in one end and a smaller hole in the other. The small, knobby holes run vertically and cover the shell. Any idea what it could be?

When alive, the sea urchin's unusual and attractive five-rayed design is hidden by its spines.

A. Your description fits the striking design of a sea urchin "skeleton," called a "test." These prickly pin cushions live in saltwater habitats throughout the world. Seldom are the fragile shells found whole, so consider yourself lucky.

Sea urchins are echinoderms, along with sea stars and sand dollars. When alive, the urchin's protective spines hide its unusual design. Denied of its many spines, the shell reveals an attractive symmetry of five rows of knobby, radial lines and a multitude of tiny pores. When the urchin is alive, the knobs act as ball-and-socket-like joints, allowing the spines to move. The tiny holes are openings for its hundreds of minute tube feet. The large hole is the bottom of the sea urchin and once housed the mouth and five pointed teeth. The smaller hole at the top was used for excreting waste. The shell itself is made of calcareous plates that fit tightly together to form a rigid, orb-like case.

Urchins use their tiny tube feet to attach to solid objects such as rocks, ledges, coral reefs and bottom debris where they graze on algae and vegetation. To maintain a grip amid currents, the hundreds of tube feet are equipped with suckers to hold the urchin in place. The spines are primarily for protection, and some urchins use their tiny suckered feet to attach weed and shells to the spines for camouflage. The moveable spines also trap bits of seaweed to be passed down to the mouth, as well as help with locomotion by acting like stilts to lift the urchin's round body and move it along. Depending on the species, the spines can be long or short, thin or club-like, pointed or venom filled. Most urchin spines are sharp enough to penetrate human skin if stepped on or carelessly handled.

Some 600-700 urchin species are known, and some are toxic to humans. In certain regions, sea urchin roe is considered a delicacy. Urchins are preyed upon by sea birds, crabs, sea stars, sting-rays, sea otters and some fish, including sharks. A MESSAGE OF HOPE FOR YOU!

JESUS CHRIST, THE SON OF GOD, WAS BORN TO SET US FREE.

HIS TEACHINGS TELL US HOW MUCH WE ARE LOVED BY GOD AND THAT WE SHOULD LOVE ONE ANOTHER AS HE HAS LOVED US.

GOD DOES NOT WANT HIS CHILDREN TO SUFFER, SO HE HAS GIVEN US HOPE FOR NEW LIFE IN CHRIST.

THE HOLY SPIRIT HAS BEEN Poured OUT FOR EACH OF US TO RECEIVE TO BRING US COMFORT AND GUIDE US IN TRUTH.

THIS IS THE GIFT GIVEN TO US BY GOD THROUGH THE LIFE, DEATH AND RESURRECTION OF JESUS.

THIS IS THE GOOD NEWS OF THE GOSPEL.

"FOR GOD SO LOVED THE WORLD THAT HE GAVE HIS ONLY SON, SO THAT EVERYONE WHO BELIEVES IN HIM NOT PERISH BUT MAY HAVE ETERNAL LIFE" (JOHN 3:16)

Engineers From Cherry Point Mentor High School Students

Electrical engineers, Ryan Craven and Luis Gallegos, and aerospace engineer, David Muse, all from NavAir at Cherry Point Marine Core Air Station, are mentoring the high school engineering class on their wind generator project. This project began with the idea of building "the biggest pinwheel" and it has evolved, through explorations with electricity and recycled materials, into building a wind generator. This wind generator will be a reminder of the "whirled peace" project and will include a light and a slogan, "Keep the Light Burning for World Peace".

ACS students have been wrapping up their projects and will be entering the NCMA Teen's Inspire Competition

Art II Collaborative Learning Project

This semester, ACS Art II students have been participating in a North Carolina Museum of Art Collaborative learning project to study the artistic process. Schools in the program are paired with a sister school and use an online platform to explore concepts, experiment with materials, and share their thoughts and progress on projects with all the students. Each student will choose a concept: Identity, Storytelling, and Place. They will then choose a piece from the museum of art to inspire their own piece. The project includes a joint field trip to the Museum with our sister school, Green Hope High School in Apex. Students were grouped together by concept and toured the museum with a docent to learn how to analyze an art piece.

Theatre Arts Class Presented "The Mad Tea Party!"

Arapahoe Charter School's first Theatre Arts class presented "The Mad Tea Party" on Thursday December 17th at 7:00 pm in the Delamar Center located on the campus of Pamlico Community College to just over 100 in attendance. The class worked diligently much of the semester and was excited to present the results of their hard work! Collaboration with the Engineering class added wonder and whimsy to the set design! The cast included the following students: Nick Phillips, Emily Price, Sydney Bazzle, Alexcia Blight, Sara Cottrell, Tabbitha Pollard, Essence Tillman, Jenna Baldree, Kaylan Muse, and Elizabeth Peterson, all from the Theatre class. Special additional appearances from Kelsie Wilkinson and Duncan Jablonski.
