PCC's Electroneurodiagnostic St. Patrick's Day Facts Technology Program Receives National Accreditation

By Sandy Wall, Pamlico Community College

Students at Pamlico Community College not only learn how to use their brains, they also can learn how to test what's happening in someone Pamlico Community College is one of two community colleges in North Carolina offering the Electroneurodiagnostic Technology associate's degree program, which trains students to conduct sophisticated tests on the electrical waves in a patient's brain and spine.

Those tests, which are conducted in hospitals and other health care settings, can be critical in the diagnosis and treatment of seizures, strokes and other neurological problems, including dementia and ALS.

Now, thanks to the hard work of faculty members, staffers and administrators, PCC's Electroneurodiagnostic Technology program has received continuing accreditation from the Commission on Accreditation of Allied Health Education Programs (CAAHEP). The accreditation is valid to 2026.

"We at Pamlico Community College are very proud of our Electroneurodiagnostic Technology program, and we are especially pleased with the news of the accreditation," said PCC President Dr. Jim Ross. "We believe this program builds on our commitment to this community and puts Pamlico Community College in a position to offer a unique degree program that will set our college apart."

St. Patrick's Day is the one day a year where everyone is a little bit Irish. In fact, almost 12 percent of Americans claim Irish ancestry and over 80 million people worldwide claim an ancestral connection to the auld sod. With St. Patrick's Day celebrated across the world, did you ever wonder how much you actually know about Ireland's biggest national holiday?

Here are our ten top facts about St. Patrick's Day.

1. St. Patrick was not Irish. He was from Wales.

2. The humble shamrock was originally a teaching tool. St. Patrick is said to have used the three-leaved plant to explain the Holy Trinity (Father, Son, and Holy Spirit) to the pagan Irish.

3. The first St. Patrick's Day parade took place in New York in the 1760s.

4. For many years, blue was the color most often associated with St. Patrick. Green was considered unlucky. St. Patrick's blue was considered symbolic of Ireland for many centuries and the Irish Presidential Standard is still blue.

5. For many years, Dripsey in County Cork had the world's shortest parade, just 77 feet, the distance between two pubs – The Weigh Inn and The Lee Valley. Currently, the town of Hot Springs, Arizona, claims to have the shortest parade - a 98-foot route on Bridge Street. Recent participants included the Irish Elvises and the San Diego Chicken.

6. In 2010, the Sydney Opera House went green to mark the 200th anniversary of St. Patrick's Day there. In Sydney, St Patrick's Day was first marked in 1810, when Lachlan Macquarie, the Governor of New South Wales, provided entertainment for Irish convict workers.

7. Irish flee the country. In Ireland, on March 17 you'll find many public figures, musicians, and dancers have traveled abroad to work on lucrative gigs elsewhere. Politicians also travel to drum up trade.

8. In Chicago every year, the Plumbers Local 110 union dyes the river "Kelly" green. The dye lasts for about five hours.

9. Traditionally, every year, the Irish leader hands a crystal bowl full of shamrock to the US President. The shamrock, grown in Kerry, is immediately destroyed by the Secret Service after the exchange.

10. Guinness sales soar on St. Patrick's Day. Recent figures show that 5.5 million pints of the black stuff are downed around the world every day. On St. Patrick's Day that figure is doubled.

Lady Hurricanes End Historic Season With Loss In State Finals

Submitted by Henry Rice, Pamlico County Schools

In what has been an exciting and fun filled season, ended in a disappointing loss to Mount Airy in the NCHSAA

1A State Championship game on Saturday at the Dean E. Smith Center on the campus of The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. In the end, the Granite Bears were too much for the Hurricanes, defeating the Lady Canes by a score of 66-40. Pamlico finishes the year with a 29-4 record, a conference champion trophy, a conference tournament champion trophy, sectional championship, regional championship and the state runner up. The Lady Hurricanes defeated the number 1 seed and the number 2 seed in the east to make it to Chapel Hill and the state championship game. The Lady Canes did not shoot the ball well only making 35 percent and committed 28 turnovers. Jainaya Jones led the Hurricanes with 16 points and was voted the Most Outstanding Player for the Lady

Canes. "We knew they could score, we knew they could shoot, but when they swarmed us with their defense in the first quarter, we didn't handle it well." "It's so crazy because that's how we beat teams. They were a lot like us, just tougher and better on this day," said Jones. Lady Canes Coach, April Rose, said she is proud of her team and thanked everyone for their support. "We've had a great season, no one probably thought we would make it this far, no one probably thought we would make it out of regionals."

"I have to be proud, have to. I'm upset and hurt for sure, but I have to be proud." "The whole county was out here in

Shiquies Branch, NCHSAA Sportsmanship Award

Chapel Hill supporting us and that meant the world to us," said Rose. Alexis Hawkins-Pool who shot three points for the Hurricanes was speechless and teammate, Leetasia Midgette who scored seven points was happy to come so far this season. "It's a great accomplishment for us to come this far," said Midgette. Scoring: (40) - Jainaya Jones 16, Leetasia Midgette 7, Hydia Davis 5, Alexis Hawkins-Pool 3, Shonda Lee 3, Shiquies Branch 2, Chaniya Dudley 2, Zyaja Mattocks 2.

Well hi there, I'm Fitz and I'm around 1 1/2 years old. Fitz like in Fitzgerald and a smarter dog you won't find. I'm great at solving puzzles and would love to show you how inquisitive and observant I can be. Not only am I smart I'm a cuddlebug that would love to snuggle with you on your sofa or at your feet while you work on your computer. I also LOVE to ride in cars. People ask what breed of dog I am and I hear them say Min. Pin, Chihuahua, and Pug. I can tell you this for sure I'm a one of a kind special guy that gets along well with large and small dogs. As for cats well I'm quite unique in that I'm cat like myself. So, I certainly would befriend your feline. Looking for an agility dog, that's where my catlike prowess could be an asset.

I'm Boomer, and I'm just a laid back cuddlebug of a lap dog. I'm a Pomeranian pup around 10 months old, so we'll have many adventures together. Good with cats and dogs and I even know how to use a dog door. Love love my belly scratches, but mostly I just love being around people. We have discovered that Boomer is a special needs dog. Paws has done extensive medical testing to determine the reason for Boomer's incontinence problem. These evaluations have helped us rule out cancer and a lot of other medical problems. It appears he will be on Proin for the rest of his life as this has helped tremendously

Hi everyone, I'm Lola a lovebug, sweetiepie, and happy go lucky girl. I do well with other dogs but not so much with cats. I would love an active family with children and since I'm young myself at only 2 years old we'd have many wonderful adventures together. I'm not much of a couch potato, but would love quite evenings after an active day of play. You could say I'm a medium energy girl.

As a recent New Leash on a Life graduate I've been housebroken, crate trained, UTD on all vaccines, altered, fully vetted, heartworm tested, and obedience trained. If I sound like your kinda doggie fill out an adoption application at pamlicopaws.net and contact Jackie at 252-649-5504.

Lions Forming A New Club In Pamlico County

A new Lions club is being formed in Pamlico County during the week of March 20th when 20 men and women celebrate the creation of the Pamlico County Centennial Lions Club.

Lions Clubs International is the largest service organization in the world. Its 1.4 million members, in more than 46,000 clubs are serving communities in 208 countries and geographical areas around the globe. Since 1917, Lions clubs have aided the blind and visually impaired, championed youth initiatives and strengthened local communities through hands-on service and humanitarian projects.

The Lions' motto is "We Serve," and we are committed to helping fill the needs of each community that we are in.

Our members do whatever is needed to help their local communities. Everywhere we work, we make friends. With children who need eyeglasses, with seniors who don't have enough to eat and with people we may never meet.

Recently, when 9 of our counties were severely impacted by Hurricane Matthew, we were able to obtain Emergency Disaster

> Grants from Lions Club International as well as other Lions clubs in North Carolina and around the country. So far we have been able to help 929 people with over $23,000 with food, water, clothing, cleaning supplies and medical supplies.

Join us at an information session on Tuesday March 21, at 6:30 p.m. at the Delamar Center in the Pamlico Community Center, at the Chamber of Commerce

In addition, on Thursday March 23, at 6:00 p.m. at the Heritage Center in Grantsboro, we will be having another information session along with an organization meeting for the new club.

We look forward to your being part of our LIONS team (Loving Individuals Offering Needed Service) to serve the residents of the Pamlico community.

Sheriff's Office Gearing Up For Youth Summer Camp

This summer, The Pamlico County Sheriff's Office is planning to begin a new program geared at helping our youth in Pamlico County. We understand that our youth are this community's greatest asset and want to ensure that we do all we can in making sure these young folks succeed in life. This summer we are planning to start a summer camp for our youth. This camp will last a week and we plan to run as many week-long sessions as we have kids sign up for. Each session we would like to have between 10-15 kids and will be chaperoned by our (2) school resource officers as they tour Eastern North Carolina. During the week, these kids will spend time learning about the sheriff's office, our court system, meeting local government officials, touring the nature center in Kinston, the state park in Atlantic Beach and many other places of interest in Eastern North Carolina. Our goal is to reach 60 to 100, 8 to 12-year-old, Pamlico County children this summer.

Not only do we believe this program will keep kids out of trouble during the summer, we also want to build strong relationships between law enforcement and our youth. We believe that we can continue to build off the relationships we have started over the last several years. My staff and I spend countless hours in our schools each year, teaching our youth about making good decisions. We believe that if we start with our youth, we will progress in making our communities and schools

As you may know, this program is not funded by local government tax dollars. We are reaching out to you today and asking for donations to help us, help our youth. We project the cost to run this program each summer at around $10,000.00, per summer. Each day we will have to provide these kids with transportation and meals, purchase needed tickets to enter the events the group will attend and purchase each kid a t-shirt at the completion of the camp.

Over the next month, we will be reaching out to local businesses and community leaders to ask for sponsors for the "Sheriff's Summer Camp." Each sponsor will have their company name/logo and/or donors name on the t-shirt that each kid will receive. The cost to become a sponsor of the summer camp is $500.00; however, we would gladly except any donation possible.

I would like to thank you for your support of this great program and would like to thank you for helping us, help our youth. If you have any questions, I ask that you contact me at (252)745-3101, or by email, sheriff.davis@pamlicocounty.org.

Commissioners Approve Salary Increase For Oriental Town Manager

As part of their meeting on March 7, the Oriental Board of Commissioners approved a raise for the Town Manager. This was based on the Commissioners' recent surveying other communities in North Carolina of similar size and responsibility. Recognizing that in order to attract and keep quality personnel, the Commissioners realized that they would need to adjust its compensation in line with with that of similar communities. The Commissioners reviewed a list of manage salaries, but especially communities in Eastern North Carolina. For reference, New Bern was included, but not considered. Commissioner White went through the entire North Carolina League of Municipalities (NCLM) list of all communities with similar populations, concerning size and type of community (transient, resort) and pulled out comparable communities.

Managers in Oriental had been paid upwards of $56,700 since 2007. Currently, the Manager's salary is split between General Fund and Water Fund operations, with approximately 20% coming from the Water Fund.

The current Manager was hired at $47,000, with an increase of $3,000 given after her probation period in 2014. The Manager's salary in the 2016-17 fiscal year is $55,000 between the funds and there are four months left in the current fiscal year.

The Town Boar, in conjunction with its annual performance review of the Town Manager, discussed making a significant adjustment to the salary that is more in accordance with what is appropriate for towns our

After discussing possible increases, the Town Board decided in Closed Session that a significant increase was necessary. The Town Board returned to Open Session, whereupon Commissioner David White moved that the Manager's salary be increased to $66,000 effective April 1, and was seconded by Mayor, Pro Tem Barb Venturi. The Mayor called for a vote, which was unanimous in favor of the proposed increase.

Consequences of untreated hearing loss!

Cognitive Decline

Adults with untreated hearing loss experience a 30-40% faster decline in cognitive abilities.

Dementia

Adults with untreated hearing loss are more likely to develop dementia.

Balance

People with mild hearing loss (25dB) are 3 times more likely to have a history of falling. Every additional 10 decibels of hearing loss increases the chances of falling by 1.4 times the original risk.

Depression

Those with untreated hearing loss have significantly higher incidence of feelings of isolation and depression.

Lifespan

Studies show older adults with untreated impaired hearing have a shorter lifespan than peers with hearing problems that wear hearing aids.

Tinnitus

90% of people with tinnitus have hearing loss.

30 Acres Protected Along Parkway And Mountains-to-Sea Trail

Raleigh – Last week, the Conservation Trust for North Carolina (CTNC) purchased a 30-acre property along the Blue Ridge Parkway in Watauga County. The Elk Mountain tract shares a quarter-mile boundary with the Blue Ridge Parkway. Because of the close proximity to the Parkway, the Elk Mountain tract is a high priority for acquisition by the National Park Service.

Portions of the property are visible from the Blue Ridge Parkway near milepost 274, just off Highway 421 near Deep Gap. Conservation of this tract complements CTNC's recent protection of an 86-acre property, just across the Parkway below Elk Mountain Overlook. The conserved forest region protects water quality in a tributary of Gap Creek, and the Mountains-to-Sea Trail passes within feet of this property, ensuring a more desirable experience for hikers.

CTNC is working with Blue Ridge Conservancy to donate this land to the National Park Service for inclusion in the Parkway's official boundary. The addition of the Elk Mountain property to the Parkway will help increase the connectivity of protected lands in the area to preserve the natural corridor and scenic vistas. Conserving land along the Blue Ridge Parkway also enhances the landscape's resilience to our changing climate by providing protected places where ecological diversity can resist damage and recover quickly.

"Protection of properties like this contributes to the integrity of the Blue Ridge Parkway, which attracts millions of visitors to the High Country each year," said Margaret Newbold, CTNC Interim Executive Director. "The addition of the Elk Mountain property also hikers along this section of the Mountains-to-Sea Trail near Boone and Blowing Rock."

PHONE: 919-828-4508 EMAIL: info@ctnc.org

"My concern for preservation dates back a number of years as a member of a local preservation task force, hop-enhances the experience of ing that others would be able to experience the beauty and joy of the world, especially being on the Parkway," said property owner Bill Asti. "Working with the National Park Service, I learned so much about preserving the surrounding environment and in particular the 'visual watershed' as an integral component of conveying the history of places and events. Conserving more land is so important to the future of our country."

The Conservation Trust for North Carolina has now conserved 63 properties on the Blue Ridge Parkway, totaling 33,166 acres. Blue Ridge Conservancy has conserved 221 properties in Allegheny, Ashe, Avery, Mitchell, Watauga, Wilkes, and Yancey Counties, totaling 20,008 acres. The New River Conservancy, based in West Jefferson, also conserves land in Watauga County. For more information on Blue Ridge Parkway land protection efforts visit www.protecttheblueridgeparkway.org.

The Conservation Trust for North Carolina protects the Blue Ridge Parkway's natural and scenic corridor, assists 23 local land trusts so that they can protect more land in the communities they serve, and connects North Carolina families with the outdoors. Land trusts preserve land and waterways to safeguard your way of life. They work with landowners to ensure natural lands are protected for safe drinking water and clean air, fresh local foods, recreation, tourism, and healthy wildlife habitat. Oriental United Methodist Church
A Beacon for Help, Healing and Hope!

Early service starts at 8:30 am in the church sanctuary. The music is comprised of a praise team of voices, guitars, and keyboards. After the early service OUMC holds a coffee hour where members and guests can get together and socialize with one another. The traditional service starts at 11:00 am in the church sanctuary with songs sung by the Sanctuary Choir accompanied by OUMC's organ. Children's Church and a nursery are provided for infants. If the Sunday is the 5th Sunday of a month the early service and traditional services are replaced with a combined service at 10:00 am. By celebrating the power of God's spirit that is alive in God's people, we hope to continue to be a bright beacon for help, healing, and hope.

Local Farmers Can Help Schools Get Grants Through Grow Rural

The America's Farmers Grow Rural Education Program is back, and eligible Pamlico County farmers can now nominate local public schools for the chance to win $10,000 and $25,000 grants to enhance their science, technology, engineering and math (STEM) programs.

The America's Farmers Grow Rural Education Program, sponsored by the Monsanto Fund, will award approximately $2.3 million in 2017 to deserving school districts – giving famers the opportunity to make a difference in their community and contribute to local students' success. Since the program began in 2011, it has awarded more than $11 million to schools in rural America.

Farmers can nominate their school district from now through April 1, 2017. Pamlico County farmers can nominate eligible public school districts online at www.GrowRuralEducation.com or by calling 1-877-267-3332 toll-free.

Since the Grow Rural Education program began in 2011, the program has awarded more than $11 million in grants to rural public schools, including more than $190,000 in North Carolina.

The number of jobs with an emphasis in science, technology, engineering and math (STEM) is expected to grow significantly over the next ten years, according to the National Science and Math Initiative. To help K-12 educators enhance their STEM curriculum, the America's Farmers Grow Rural Education program, sponsored by the Monsanto Fund, will once again provide farmers with the opportunity to nominate their Pamlico County public schools for opportunities to receive $10,000 and $25,000 grants.

Former grant-winning schools, such as Early County Elementary School in Blakely, Georgia, indicate the program stimulates school budgets for STEM education, as well as students' level of interest in science and math.

In 2017, the Grow Rural Education program will award approximately $2.3 million to deserving schools. Since the program began in 2011, it has awarded more than $11 million to schools in rural communities across the United States.

To qualify for a Grow Rural Education grant, farmers in eligible counties must nominate an eligible rural public school district to compete for a merit-based grant of either $10,000 or $25,000. Farmers can nominate their school district from January 1 to April 1, 2017.

After the school district receives a nomination, the Monsanto Fund will notify the district and encourage administrators and teachers to design a grant that enhances STEM education in their district.

Nominated school districts have until April 15, 2017, to submit a grant application describing their project. An advisory council composed of farmer leaders then reviews finalist applications and selects the winning school districts.

"The Grow Rural Education program provides farmers with a way to give back and sets students up for success in their local communities," said Al Mitchell, Monsanto Fund president. "We have heard from many school districts that the projects they implement excite their students and, in many instances, have resulted in improved test scores."

To nominate a local school district for one of the Grow Rural Education grants, as well as a complete list of program rules and eligibility information, farmers can go to GrowRuralEducation.com. Additionally, more information about the program can be found at facebook.com/AmericasFarmers.

PCHS Students Construct Building For Senior Center

Alan Woodard's Carpentry I, II and III classes at Pamlico County High School (PCHS) recently completed a 12' X 16' storage building for the Pamlico County Senior Services Center. Construction of the project has spanned over two semesters, allowing students to learn how to frame a floor, wall and roof system. The project also gave students the opportunity to learn how to install roof shingles and vinyl siding. In addition to meeting the state curriculum requirements, hands-on training such as this, helps PCHS Carpentry students meet the credentialing requirements for the National Center for Construction Education and Research (NCCER).

NCCER, developed with the support of

Mr. Woodard and his students beside a completed storage building in which they built construction CEOs and various associations and academic leaders from across the nation, seeks to provide relevant training and a credentialing program for the industry to high school students. In addition to receiving a grade for their class, after completing training and passing an assessment in certain NCCER areas and the student completes various modules in the NCCER database, they are provided a way

Submitted by Shirley Holt, Pamlico County Schools CTE Director February was Career and Technical Education (CTE) month – a great opportunity to acknowledge the important contribution CTE is making in preparing our students for college and careers. We also thank all those working tirelessly so that more students can find their life's passion and reach their full potential. Many teachers, school and district administrators, state education officials, career and technical student organization leaders, business stakeholders, parents, and others are helping to equip students with the academic knowledge, the employability and technical skills needed to find productive careers and lead fulfilling lives.

CTE students and educators in today's society face a more difficult challenge than those of earlier generations, when a high school diploma and the skills it represented were enough to secure a place in the middle class. Those low-skilled, well-paid jobs are nonexistent. By working together, those at the local, state, and national levels are making significant progress in improving the rigor and relevance of CTE programs.

cant progress in improving the rigor and relevance of CTE programs

In the world today, we need to prepare all students to succeed in a competitive global economy and digital world. All students must be lifelong learners, able to learn new skills over the course of their careers to meet the changing demands of the workplace and the marketplace. Flexibility and ingenuity are needed to thrive in jobs that haven't even been invented! High-quality CTE is absolutely critical to meeting this challenge. CTE courses provide instruction that is hands-on, engaging, rigorous and relevant. Many of them are helping to connect students with the high-demand science, technology, engineering and math fields – where so many quality jobs are waiting.

According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, nearly one-third of the fastest growing occupations will require an associate's degree or a postsecondary certificate. At a time when job opportunity is so critical, CTE programs in Pamlico County Schools are ensuring students are adequately equipped with the skills to successfully enter the workforce.

Interesting statistic from North Carolina Association of Career and Technical Education: In 2015, 95.7% of North Carolina's students graduated from high school when they completed a 4-credit CTE pathway compared with 85.4% for all graduates statewide.

Friday Flicks "El Dorado" March 17 At The Old Theater

El Dorado (1967) is a tightly directed, humorous, altogether successful Western, turned out almost effortlessly, it would seem, by three old pros: John Wayne, Robert Mitchum and director Howard Hawks. You could call it, of course a "John Wayne Western." We guess that means it has the Duke in the saddle, drawl and all, making his laconic comments on the state of the universe and marching through old Western cliches.

But El Dorado is more than that. It's the big one ... with the big two!

It's long (at 126 minutes), but it's quickly paced. Howard Hawks was too good a director to depend upon stereotyped violence to keep the interest of the audience, and his well-made scenes between Wayne (as Cole Thornton), Mitchum (as Sheriff J.P.

Hurrah), Arthur Hunicutt (as Bull Harris) and James Cann (as Mississippi) never lag for a moment. El Dorado also features Charlene Holt (as Maudie), Ed Asner (as Bart Jason) and Johnny Crawford (as Luke MacDonald). El Dorado, rated PG, will be preceded by a cartoon and the next episode of The Complete Adventures of Flash Gordon. Tickets are $5.50 and include free popcorn and are vailable at the Old Theater box office on movie night. All proceeds from Friday Flicks go to the support of the Old Theater, a non-profit organization. Show date is Friday, March 17. The Old Theater's box office opens at 6:30 p.m. Doors open at 7:00 p.m. Movie begins at 7:30 p.m.

Financial Focus

Dan M. Roberts, IV Financial Advisor

Help Protect Older Adults from Financial

Financial exploitation costs older Americans billions of dollars per year, according to several sources, including the National Council on Aging. If you have older parents, could they be vulnerable to financial scams and rip-off artists? And, if so, what can you do to help protect them?

Unfortunately, it is possible for anyone to become a victim. For a variety of reasons, older adults may be easier targets than younger people. And that is why, when interacting with your parents, you should look for these warning signs:

• Suspicious new relationships – If your parent mentions something about a new friend, a romantic partner or some type of caregiver who seems to have taken a great interest in your parent's financial situation, you may have reason to be suspicious. Do not be afraid to ask some questions.

Help Protect Older Adults from Financial Abuse

- Multiple checks written to same person or entity If you think your parents may be making questionable financial moves, ask to see their checkbook. If you see several checks written to an unfamiliar person or business, you might be viewing evidence of a financial scam. If so, you will want to intercede before your parents get victim-
- Changing power of attorney or beneficiaries –If your parents suddenly decide to name someone new as their "agent" (the person responsible for carrying out a power of attorney), you may need to investigate. And the same is true if your parents change the beneficiary designation on their investment accounts or insurance policies.
- Unusual urgency to make an investment If you learn that your parents want to make some type of investment "immediately," you should be concerned. No reputable financial professional would ever pressure them – or anyone else – to "act now" on an investment.

Apart from watching out for the above signs of trouble, what else can you do to help guard your parents from fraudsters?

For starters, urge your parents, repeatedly, if necessary, to never give out personal information over the phone or online. Scammers have gotten quite clever at impersonating legitimate businesses or organizations - for example, unless you are looking closely at the email, you might think the logo of a bank or another company is being accurately depicted. Again, though, reputable businesses typically don't send messages that are demanding, threatening or otherwise employing some type of extreme language.

Also, stress to your parents that they should never wire money to a random account. Plus, remind them about the truth of "no risk" offers: Any financial offer that sounds too good to be true is just that may be especially vulnerable to offers that claim to "clear up" all their debts. But there's no quick fix to this problem, and any caller who claims otherwise is likely being deceitful. Encourage your parents to discuss their debt situation with an honest, professional debt counselor or a financial advisor.

Finally, if your parents don't already work with a trusted, qualified

Earning the accreditation was not easy. It required a lot of selfstudy and data collection, plus a stringent site visit by a CAAHEP team last September. But the work has paid off with a program that not only complies with nationally established accreditation standards, but also helps students discover new possibilities in health care.

Tests involving the brain and spine might sound painful, but they're not. According to PCC instructor Leslie Jones, electroneurodiagnostic technologists use a series of electrodes that are placed on a patient's head to collect data on the electrical waves generated by the brain and spine.

Before setting up the tests, technologists assess a patient's symptoms and medical history, and then carefully measure the person's head to ensure the electrodes are placed the correct distance apart, she

The patient's scalp is then cleaned with alcohol to remove any oils or hair care products, and the electrodes are put on. As the patient follows a series of commands, the electrodes collect data on his or her brain activity.

"It looks like something a 2-year-old would draw," Jones said, referring to the series of squiggly lines produced by a successful test, or "electroencephalogram." Within those lines, doctors and others look for patterns that can help find problems in a patient's brain and determine the correct treatment regimen to correct them.

Jones said she was drawn to a career in Electroneurodiagnostic Technology after her 12-year-old sister suffered a brain injury in an accident and developed seizures. Many of her students say they also were attracted to the field by the neurological difficulties suffered by family members.

Tiarra Jones-Nickeson, a second semester student from New Bern, said she enrolled in the program after seeing a beloved aunt struggle with seizures.

"I don't want other people to go through what I had to go through," she said.

Pamlico's online Electroneurodiagnostic Technology program is a great option for working adults who are interested in health care. The program include a clinical component, meaning students work on their skills in health care settings.

PCC offers its entire two-year associate's degree program in Electroneurodiagnostic Technology online, something no other community college in the United States does.

"It's the only one of its kind in the country," said Sandra Mathis, director of the program.

The two-year program takes commitment and discipline, but can lead to a versatile career with jobs in hospitals, doctors' offices, clinics and labs. Work by electroneurodiagnostic technicians can help improve the lives of stroke and dementia patients, those with sleep problems and athletes and others who have suffered concussions.

"That's awesome," Mathis said. For more information about PCC's Electroneurodiagnostic

Pamlico

The weather had been beautiful this week and spring appeared to have arrived; however, the first day of Daylight Savings Time it snowed while we were in church and did not stop until after lunch. It did not stick, and we do need the rain, but I was getting used to warmer days. I pray you all remembered to set your clocks ahead and were not late for church and Sunday school.

Saturday afternoon, Joan Ford and I attended the Celebration of Life for Mrs. Classie Mae Farrow (88) of Pamlico at Broad Creek United Church of Christ. She has been one of the matriarchs of the church since my childhood. It was a wonderful celebration. The Reverend Antonio Ron King, Sr. officiated with Minister Keith Cannon singing a solo and Reverend Barry Squires giving the Eulogy. He preached an inspiring message about Classie Mae's life. To Mrs. Classie Mae, I say, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant." It has just been a year since we attended the funeral of Mr. James Rodney Thompson. It was a blessing to see his grandson play the keyboard for Mrs. Classie Mae's service. She loved her music and she could really dance for the Lord.

Pamlico is losing too many residents. Last week, we went to the graveside service of Vaughn Thomas Hill, Jr. at Bethel in Whortonsville. Thomas lived around the corner from us, in what we refer to as "Hill-ville."

Reverend Torrie Osgood preached at the Reelsboro Christian Church morning Lent service last week. on Wednesdays at 8:00 am. After the service, breakfast was served in the fellowship hall. "Lent 17" sponsored by the County Ministerial Breakfast Group invites everyone to the Wednesday services at Bayboro United Methodist Church. The service starts at 11:45 with special music followed by preaching and a donation lunch. The schedule for morning and midday services is in the table below. On Friday, March 10, I went to see "It Happened in the Park 2 (the Wedding)" and I was very impressed with the bride, Elaine Creel. I really enjoyed all of the songs that were sung and decided the Pamlico Chorale needs to recruit a couple of the gentlemen. Pamlico's own Ann Stackhouse was one of the actors at the Old Theater.

St. Patrick's Day is March 17 and that means some succulent corned beef and cabbage to enjoy. Arapahoe UMC will have their dinner on March 15 and St. Peter the Fisherman Roman Catholic Church will have their dinner on March 18. (suppertime for southerners) Place orders in advance.

On March 27, 2017 Primetime Lunch & Learn with the Editor of Our State magazine will be at St. Peter the Fisherman Church on White Farm Road. To learn more, call 252-371-1600, ext.1.

Celebrating birthdays in March are Larry Gracie (3/13), Lisa Franklin Jackson (3/15), Frank Bacon & Patrick Phillips (3/21), Heath Fulcher (3/24), Emma Machle & Joanna Harrell (3/27), Debbie Willis Fulcher (3/30), and Santa Klotz (3/31). Zachary & Megan Rodgers will celebrate their anniversary on (3/14).

Have a blessed week. Fearful? Take Spiritual Vitamin F. "Fear thou not; for I am with thee: be not dismayed; for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness." (Isaiah 41:10)

Date	Early Service Preachers	Mid-day Service Musicians & Preachers	Lunch Menu
March 15	Rev. Michael Roach	Carnell Barrow/Rev. Torrie Osgood	Subs (Aggies)
March 22	Rev. Rex Horne	Betty Joe Rodgers/Rev. Scott Fitzgerald	Chili
March 29	Rev. Ray Lewis	Brant Island Strings/Rev. Jerry Harper	Pizza & Salad

When you spend almost a whole morning trying to get on the internet, it makes the start of your week a little "sour," and the weather forecast isn't helping any. At least we don't have to worry about the blizzards that will be happening in other parts of the country except to pray for the folks. The little smattering of snow we had Sunday was beautiful but the kind I like, it did not stick or stay. Church was cancelled so the minister would not have to come from New Bern in the event there was ice on the bridges. Weeks and I decided to venture over to Morehead on Wednesday to meet family members and see a family member's new home. Wouldn't you know there was only one ferry running so we sat an hour waiting. I used the time to read the book on my car and learned things about it that I did not know. My neighbors Maura and Melydia were here for the weekend, but went back to Greenville in the snow. I see Charlie and Linda King and their doggie walking every day. Noticed the crabbers are getting their pots out, so I hope this is a good year for them and me. Eric Bryan was supposed to leave yesterday to go back to Charlotte after spring break. Kevin Bryan is better after a bout with flu. Our prayers go out to Barry Mills and his family. His mother died suddenly and their was no evidence that she was sick. The Lent services are having good attendance on Wednesdays. Events coming up--Pamlico Community Band Concert and the Pamlico Chorale Concert. Thought for the week--If you want a rainbow, you have to put up with the rain.

Goose Creek Island

Goose Creek Island 55 Plus Club met Thursday at the Community Center. Special guests were Joan Rowe and Mary Hill who brought several homemade crafts and demonstrated how they were made. They showed a lovely door wreath and Christmas trees made from oyster shells. A date will be set at a later time when members can bring supplies and make crafts. Guest speaker next week is Scott Lynnhart, Pamlico County Health Director. Mildred Fulford, Brenda Lewis and I played Scrabble after the meeting and I was lucky enough to win two very close games and Herbie came home with me. The last two weeks games were tied so he stayed at the Center. The Rummikub ladies were still playing when we left. I don't know who wins the most games, but I know they have fun because there is a lot of laughing and hollering!

Prayer List: Ola Mayo Lewis, Reelsboro, recently had surgery and is doing a little better, but still is not well The Lewis family lived in Hobucken for many years and were active in the Methodist Church. Hiram enjoyed being in the Homecoming Play. Iris says her Mama still misses all of us and we sure miss her too! Ola needs our prayers. Charlie Gray Lupton of Franklin, Va. is recovering from a recent surgery. Nona Potter has pneumonia and is resting at home. We were pleased to hear that young Camden Popperwill is now at home. I am glad to report that I am no longer wearing "the boot." I now have a post op shoe which is a whole lot more comfortable!

We were saddened to hear of the passing of Orien Chalmers "Bill" Potter of Vanceboro and Vernon Lloyd Lupton of Oak Harbor, Washington. Both were from Lowland and alumni of Hobucken High Annette Jones, 55 Plus Club Correspondent

School. Happy Anniversary Mar 21 - Allen and Maxine Hill Olson.

Josie Guidry, daughter of Percy and Joy enjoyed her13th birthday at Rollerland in New Bern on Friday. Many, many children from Hobucken, Lowland and other communities joined in the fun including Josie's "Home School Group." Happy Birthday Josie!

Wanda Rose Brothers Atkinson of New Bern was honored with a Surprise Birthday Party Saturday at New Vision PH Church with over fifty family members and friends in attendance. Rachel Brothers Strickland presented a lovely birthday cake to go with other delicious refreshments. Happy Birthday Wanda!

Langston and Rosanne Rowe visited with Janet Tyson Watson in Washington last week.

Pamlico County High School Color Guard Girl's Flag Team traveled to Rolesville Saturday to compete in the Atlantic Indoor Color Guard competition at Rolesville High School. Pamlico won 7th place in their division. Jenna Jones, member of the marching band and other band members joined the group.

Pamlico County Register of Deeds office now has preserved marriage license dating from 1872-1961. Copies are only 25 cents. The public is invited to come in and have a look at these valuable records. Lynn Lewis is Register of Deeds.

Deaths

Betty Jo Roberts Baldree, 76, of Arapahoe passed away Friday, March 10, 2017, at CarolinaEast Medical Center. She was preceded in death by a son, John Baldree Jr. She is survived by her husband of 59 years, John R. Baldree; son, Michael Baldree (Tammy) of Oriental; daughter, Sherry Rice (Brad) of Minnesott Beach; brother, Richard Roberts (Susie) of Goose Creek; sister, Peggy Lee (Mike) of Arapahoe; and four grandchildren, Thomas, Tim & Laura Pollock and Jenna Baldree. Her funeral was held 11 a.m., Tuesday, March 14th at Arapahoe Free Will Baptist Church with the Rev. William Drake Harper officiating. Interment was in Greenleaf Memorial Park.

Arrangements by Bryant Funeral Home & Crematory, Alliance.

Janet "Jan" C. Stobie, of Dacula, Georgia, January 3, 1926 -February 20, 2017.

Janet was born January 3, 1926 to J. Fredrick Cook and Julia Helman Cook in Newark, NJ.

She was preceded in death in 2013 by the love of her life and partner in an extraordinary journey thru the years, James H. Stobie, and her former husband Robert W. Emeigh who gave her three children who were the joy of her life.

Janet is survived by her loving and devoted children, Robert W Emeigh (Judith) of Dacula, GA, Diane Emeigh Packard (Lloyd) of Dacula, GA and David Emeigh (Christine) of Roanoke, VA who comforted and cared for her in her final days in Home Hospice so she could be surrounded by her beloved animals, bird sanctuary, and flower garden. She is also cherished by stepdaughter Catherine Stobie of California and stepsons Michael Stobie of Denver, CO., and Timothy Stobie of Martha's Vineyard, MA.

Additionally, she is survived by grandchildren Cheryl Ritzel (Barry) of Dacula, Jenn Cornell of Atlanta, Beth Rouse (Maj. Dean) of Spotsylvania, VA, Lauren Tye (Capt. Brian) of St. Petersburgh, FL, and Laryssa Emeigh of Nashville, TN; great grandchildren, Ashton Ritzel, Amy Rouse, Carson Rouse, Braedyn Tye, Jim Stobie, Lilly Stobie, Jarred Stobie, Luke Stobie, Noah Stobie, and Kyle Stobie.

After years raising her children, successful at many jobs Janet, the beautiful amateur actress/dancer/musician met charming and handsome Jim Stobie, the sometimes-professional movie and TV actor, Pharmaceutical Sales Manager and Registered Pharmacist while both were performing at the well-known Barn Dinner Theater. The rest as they say "is history". One of their many adventures included, touring with a Federal Park Service Play Honoring our country's Bicentennial performing in nearly every National Park over a 2-year period, including Dinner at the home of former First Lady, Lady Bird Johnson while in Texas.

While still in their 50's Janet and Jim sold, or rented their homes, put their careers on hold and purchased a 38 ft., two-masted sailboat they named "Banjo" and sailed the Caribbean for over two years visiting nearly every island large or small. When returning from that adventure, cruising the Inland Waterway they stopped in the charming outer-banks fishing village, Oriental, NC, where they immediately purchased a lot and ultimately built their retirement home which they enjoyed for 25 years before moving to Dacula, GA to be near their children and grandchildren.

The family invites friends and acquaintances to share a time of life celebration and remembrance with them on March 26, 2017. At 1453 Mulberry Creek Ct, Dacula, GA (Hamilton Mill) from 2 to 4 PM.

Do you have a story idea? An event we should hear about? Maybe a photograph we should see? Email editor@thepamliconews.com or call 249-1555 - we'd like to hear from you.

One Dish Wonders! Great Casseroles To Satisfy Your Family and Friends

Saturday Night Casserole

- 1/2 of an 8-ounce package of noodles 1 can (10-1/2-oz.) cream of mushroom soup
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1 teaspoon instant minced onions
- 2 teaspoons prepared mustard
- 1 cup sour cream 2 cups leftover cooked ham, cut into 1-inch cubes
- 1/4 cup dry bread crumbs
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine Parmesan cheese, grated (to sprinkle over the top)

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Generously butter a 1-1/2 quart casserole - set aside. Cook noodles according to directions on package and drain well - set aside. In a small saucepan, combine the soup and milk and stir until smooth, add the onions, mustard and sour cream and blend well. In the prepared dish, layer half the cooked noodles, and half the ham and half the sauce. Repeat. Melt the butter or margarine and toss in the bread crumbs and blend well to coat. Sprinkle buttered crumbs over the casserole and top with generous amount of grated Parmesan cheese. Bake-uncoveredin 350 degree oven for about 30 minutes or until top is

Southwestern Pasta

- 3 large sweet onions (about 2-1/4 lbs. total) golden brown. Serves 6.

- 1/4 cup olive oil
- 1-1/2 teaspoons ground cumin
- 1-1/2 teaspoons chili powder
- 3/4 teaspoon salt
- Dash of cayenne pepper 1 can (14.5 oz.) diced tomatoes, drained
- 3/4 cup frozen corn kernels 1 can (14.5 oz.) chicken broth 12 ounces fettuccine, cooked according to direc-

2 tablespoons chopped fresh cilantro, if desired

tions on package 1 cup grated Monterey Jack cheese

Peel the sweet onions and cut into 1/4-inch thick rings. In a large and deep skillet, heat the olive oil over medium-low heat. Add the onions, cumin, chili powder, salt and cayenne pepper and cook-covered-for 10 minutes. Uncover and continue cooking-stirring frequently-until onions are soft and golden - about 15 or 20 minutes. Stir in the tomatoes and corn, cook 2 minutes longer. Pour in the chicken stock and increase heat to high. Cook, stirring occasionally, until the sauce thickens slightly - about 10 minutes. Add the cooked pasta to the sauce and cook one minute longer, stirring to coat the pasta with the sauce. Stir in the cheese. Serve immediately and garnish with cilantro, if desired. Serves 6. Grands Tuna Melts

- 2 cans (6-oz. each) water packed tuna, well drained
- 1/3 cup chopped onions
- 1/2 cup mayonnaise
- 1/8 teaspoon salt 1/8 teaspoon pepper
- 1 can (16.3 oz.) Pillsbury Grands Refrigerated Original or Buttermilk Flaky Layers Biscuits
- 1 cup grated Cheddar cheese
- Sour cream, if desired
- Chopped tomatoes, if desired Shredded lettuce, if desired

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Grease baking sheet. In a medium bowl, combine the tuna, onions, mayonnaise, salt and pepper and blend well. Separate dough into 8 biscuits. Place 4 biscuits on greased baking sheet; press or roll each to form 5-inch rounds. Spoon tuna mixture in center of biscuits.

Top each with cheese. Press or roll remaining 4 biscuits to form 5-inch rounds. Place over filling and press edges to seal. Bake in 350 degree oven for about 20 minutes or until golden brown. Cut each sandwich in half and top with sour cream, tomatoes and a sprinkling of lettuce, if desired. Makes 8 sandwiches.

Hamburger & Cheese Casserole For A Crowd

16-oz. package medium noodles, uncooked

- 2 pounds lean ground beef
- 2 cans (15-oz. each) tomato sauce 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1 teaspoons salt
- 1/2 teaspoon garlic powder
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper 2 cups cream-style cottage cheese
- 2 packages (8-oz. each) cream cheese, softened 1 cup sour cream
- 2 bunches green onions with tops, well chopped 1 green pepper, well chopped 3/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Sauté the ground beef, stirring to crumble, in a large skillet until brown. Stir in the tomato sauce, sugar, salt, garlic powder and pepper, blend and remove from heat. In a large bowl, combine the cottage cheese, cream cheese, sour cream, green onions and green peppers, blend. Divide half the uncooked noodles evenly between two 9x13x2-inch baking pans/dishes. Spread noodles in the bottom of each pan. Moisten the noodles with some of the meat sauce. Cover noodles with cheese mixture, using all of the mixture between the two pans. Top cheese mixture with remaining uncooked noodles. Cover noodles with meat sauce and sprinkle top of each pan with equal mounts of the Parmesan cheese. Bake-covered-for 45 minutes. Serves 20.

Barbecued Tuna

- 1 can (6-1/2-oz.) tuna, drained and flaked
- 1/2 cup Worcestershire sauce 2 tablespoons onion flakes
- 2 cups chopped pimiento 1/4 to 1/2 cup tomato juice
- In a skillet, combine the Worcestershire sauce, onion flakes and pimiento and cook until onions absorb liquid. Add the tuna and tomato juice and cook until dry or until the consistency of barbecue.

Spinach & Hamburger Bake

- 2 tablespoons vegetable oil
- 1 pound lean ground beef 1 box frozen spinach
- 1 can (about 10-1/2-oz.) cream of mushroom soup
- 2 tablespoons soy sauce

ter to coat)

- 1/8 teaspoon pepper
- 1 cup grated Cheddar cheese Soft bread crumbs (tossed with enough melted but-

Preheat oven to 400 degrees. Heat the oil in a heavy skillet and brown the ground beef, stirring to crumble. Add the frozen spinach, cover and cook until spinach thaws. Stir in the cream of mushroom soup, soy sauce, pepper and half the grated cheese. Cook and stir until cheese melts. Place mixture in a well buttered 2-quart casserole dish. Sprinkle with remaining cheese and sprinkle with buttered bread crumbs. Bake about 15 minutes or until cheese melts and bread crumbs are crisp. Serves 6.

Franks With Cornbread Topping

- Franks:
- 8 frankfurters, cut into eighths 1/2 cup celery, finely chopped
- 1 cup finely chopped onions 1/2 cup green pepper, finely chopped
- 1/4 cup vegetable or olive oil
- 2-1/2 cups canned tomatoes, drained and tomatoes broken up
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

Tabasco sauce Cornbread Topping (recipe follows)

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Heat the oil in a heavy skillet and sauté the celery, onions and green pepper until onions are golden. Remove the skillet from the heat and add the tomatoes, frankfurters, salt and a dash of Tabasco sauce. Pour contents of skillet into a well greased 9x13x2-inch baking dish. Pour Cornbread Topping mixture evenly on top of the casserole. Bake-uncovered-in preheated 375 degree oven

Easy Oven Browned Potatoes

4 medium potatoes, peeled and cut into small

Salt and pepper 6 to 8 tablespoons butter, melted (or olive oil) Salt and pepper, to taste

Preheat oven to 400 degrees. Line a baking pan with aluminum foil ñ set aside.

Toss the potato chunks with the melted butter or olive oil until well coated. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Place potatoes in prepared pan in single layer. Bake for about 45 minutes, turning one time, or until tender and nicely browned. Serves 4. Baked Mushrooms

- 2 cans (6-oz. each) mushroom caps, well drained
- 1/2 cup plus 2 tablespoons butter
- 1/4 cup all-purpose flour 1/2 teaspoon dried marjoram 2 tablespoons dry sherry, optional
- 1 can (about 10-1/2-oz.) beef broth 2 tablespoons fresh chopped parsley 1/2 cup soft bread crumbs

2 tablespoons Parmesan cheese, grated Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Melt the 1/2 cup butter in a heavy skillet and cook the onions until translucent. Drain the mushrooms and add them to the onions and cook and stir until they begin to change color. Combine the flour and marjoram and blend into the mushroom mixture. Add the beef broth all at once and cook and stir until mixture thickens. Remove from heat. Stir in the sherry and parsley and pour into a casserole dish. Melt the remaining 2 tablespoons of butter in a saucepan and combine with bread crumbs and grated Parmesan cheese and toss to blend. Sprinkle mixture over the casserole. Bake for about 15 minutes or until bubbling hot. Serves 6. Fresh Corn & Swiss Cheese Casserole

- 3 cups fresh corn cut from cob
- 1 cup sour cream
- 1 egg, well beaten 2 tablespoons finely chopped onions

2 tablespoons butter minutes. Serves 6.

1/2 cup soft bread crumbs

- 1/2 teaspoon salt 1/8 teaspoon black or white pepper 1 cup grated Swiss cheese
- Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Place 1/4 teaspoon of the salt and 1 cup water in a saucepan and bring to a boil. Add the corn to the boiling water and cook no longer than 2 minutes - drain. Combine the corn, sour cream, egg, onions, salt, pepper and 3/4 cup of the cheese in a mixing bowl. Blend well. Place the corn mixture in a baking dish. Melt the tablespoon of butter in a small pan and toss with bread crumbs and remaining cheese. Sprinkle bread crumb/butter/cheese mixture evenly over the casserole. Bake for about 30

Local Broker Receives Quality Service Pinnacle Producer Award

Gwaltney Broker/Owner of CENTURY 21 Sail/Loft Realty is pleased to announce that Century 21 Real Estate LLC recently recognized Associate Broker Suzanne Gwaltney with the CENTURY 21 Quality Service Pinnacle Producer Award.

"The Quality Service Pinnacle Producer Award is an integral part of our brand's commitment to excellence and recognizes Suzanne's dedication to making each and every client interaction a positive one," said Rick Davidson, president and chief executive officer of Century 21 Real Estate LLC.

The annual award is based on results from the CENTURY 21 Quality Service Survey (QSS) which is e-mailed to consumers immediately after the purchase or sale of a home. The CENTURY 21 Quality Service Pinnacle Producer Award is based on customer survey scores. This is the third consecutive year that Suzanne has received the Quality Service Producer award. The outstanding level of service Suzanne provided to her customers is evidenced by the overwhelmingly positive feedback she received.

"Suzanne provides her clients with knowledge and advice related to their real estate transaction and offers them confidence during what may be the most significant purchase of a lifetime," said Larry. Suzanne's hard work and dedication makes a real difference with the consumers that she serves.

How Will You Celebrate St. Patty's Day?

St. Patrick's Day is a cultural and religious holiday celebrated on the 17th of March, and named in honor of the patron saint of Ireland.

in Ireland for over a thousand years, though it was only recognized as a celebration of Irish culture and heritage in the 1970s. The day is named in honor of St. Patrick, the patron saint of Ireland, who has been credited with bringing Christianity to Ireland. There are multiple origin stories for St. Patrick, but:

Go green. Unless you want to, you don't have to wear a sweater with a giant shamrock on it. (Though that would certainly help you stand out.) The great thing about this holiday is you are free to go as subtle or as wild as you like. Nothing is too gaudy or outlandish.

Learn some Irish words and phrases. The Irish have their own distinct dialect of the English language, so if you want to sound like a true Paddy on St. Patrick's Day, try sprinkling some of these Hiberno-English gems into your con-

What's the craic? This phrase can be interpreted as either "How's it going?" or "What's going on?" or "What's up?" and is used in non-formal settings. Craic is a very important word in Ireland and can be used to describe your enjoyment of an event or activity, e.g "How was the party?" "Ah sure, it was great craic altogether!" Use "craic" in the correct context and vou'll earn major points with the Irish.

Learn to Irish Dance. Irish dancing is a form of step dancing which is popular both in Ireland and all over the world. Not only will it impress everyone you know, but it's also a fun way to increase flexibility and burn calories!

Travel to Ireland. What better way to celebrate the quintessential Irish holiday than a trip to the land of Saints and Scholars! Dublin, the capital city, usually holds a five day festival in honor of the holiday and is the location of Ireland's largest and most impressive St. Patrick's Day parade. The city buzzes with life over the course of the festival - thousands of tourists flood the city and the pubs are overflowing with travel> ers and locals alike, eager to "drown the shamrock". So if you're looking to celebrate St. Patrick's Day in true Irish fashion, this is the place to be!

Eat traditional Irish food. Beer and spirits are not the only great consumable goods to come out of Ireland. Corned beef, cabbage and lamb stew accompanied by traditional Irish soda bread are tasty ways to "keep it real." Potatoes are about as Irish as you can get and are one of the staples of the Irish diet.

Traditional Irish foods include bangers and mash, colcannon, bacon (boiled ham) and cabbage, stew, boxty, Shepherd's Pie, potato bread and black pudding.

Play some Irish music. Ireland has a long history with music, and many incredible styles have emerged. Celtic, folk and traditional Irish pub songs might just get you in the St.

Patrick's Day spirit! You can play some Irish music at home, listen to it on the radio (some stations will have special St. Patrick's Day features) or find out about any Irish bands or musicians playing locally.

Attend or get involved in local parades. If you can't make it to the five day festival in Dublin, Ireland, check out the scene locally. You can enjoy the parade as a spectator or contact your local parade organization committee to get involved. Savannah, GA boasts the second largest parade in the United States, while out of any US state, Boston has the highest number of Irish descendants by percentage of population, and its South Boston St. Patrick's Day parade is the first recorded anywhere in the world.

Check out the pub scene. Most bars and pubs love St. Patrick's Day, as it's one of the few holidays known for a marked increase in alcohol consumption, so many will be catering to patrons with a festive St. Patrick's theme. It would be a shame to drink Budweiser on St. Patrick's Day, regardless of where in the world you are. If Guinness isn't your thing, try a pint of Bulmers (also called Magners) cider, Smithwick's ale, Jameson Irish whiskey or some Bailey's Irish cream.

Consider having a party at home. If you aren't a fan of the bar scene but still want to celebrate, invite a few friends over and have a St. Patrick's Day themed party. Go as extreme or as laid back as you want: insist that everyone wear green or just have them come as they are and chill out with a few beers. In Ireland it is common to get together with family for St. Patrick's Day, so perhaps you'd like to do this too.

Random Acts Of Kindness

We have had several wonderful happenings at Pamlico County Primary School in the last several months. It is out of the kindness of community members, complete strangers, parents, teachers and our students. Words cannot express what this kindness means to our school.

On March 2nd, we invited community members to "BE OUR HERO" and come to our school to begin our day and read with us on Read Across America Day. The morning began at 7:30 a.m. with music playing out front in our Kiss and Go lane. Students were amazed to see Sheriff Chris Davis and his deputies and Wildlife officer, Rusty Meador opening their car doors for them. They were then greeted by Frankie our Reading dog and had the front doors opened for them by several deputies. Many other community members greeted our students as they walked to class. After watching our students do the morning news while enjoying coffee and donuts, our special guests visited classrooms and read with our students. We thank everyone who was able to make this day so special for our students! Hunter Davis was so touched by getting to meet the Sheriff that he wrote him a letter. Here is what he had to say:

Dear Sheriff Davis:

It was a big surprise and I was a little nervous shaking your hand at PCPS yesterday! I was glad to meet you. Tell all your friends thanks for coming to read. I want to be a policeman when I grow up. I was also glad to have my picture taken with you.

Your friend, Matthew Hunter Davis, Grade 2

Another wonderful happening around PCPS is the number of Donor's Choose projects that have been fully funded recently. Katie Hardison and Ruth Millar had their flexible seating projects funded. Their students have really been enjoying the changes in their classroom. The bulk of Mrs. Millar's project was fully funded by a good Samaritan in Pamlico County. Katelyn Girard and Stacy Nelson each received OSMOs which are an award winning gaming system for the iPad. The OSMO connects to an iPad, then students can virtually interact with the camera on the OSMO to spell words and make tangrams, just to name a few.

Debby Hollowell had her Kindle Fire Kid's edition project to get 10 tablets and headphones get fully funded thanks to several teachers, students' families, family members and several good Samaritans across the country, with the last little bit of money needed provided by one of her students. Tucker Carey, a first grade student, learned that the project needed around $198 during his class time in the media center. At the time, Tucker didn't say anything, but the next evening his mom shared this on Facebook: "Oh my!Tucker just collected all his money together to give it to you for your donors choose project. He says he wants all the kids in the school to enjoy the tablets because he knows so many don't have the money to have one at home.

He did this completely on his own. I have tears forming....."

He gathered his money that he had received from the Tooth Fairy, Christmas and his birthday to try and reach the goal. Tucker emerged from his room with $26.00 ready to donate. Once his mom shared this on Facebook, offers to match his donation came in and the project was soon fully funded. When Tucker was asked again why he would give all his "buying" money to the school, he replied, "I just wanted to be nice to other people." This goes to show that it doesn't matter how big you are, if your heart is in the right place you can make a difference. Gage Caraway also joined in the giving spirit by donating his used Kindle Fire to the media center so we can try and have enough for a class set. Our school is so thankful to everyone who has shown such kindness!

State Searching For Head Of N.C. Division Of Marine Fisheries

Nothing Compares

RALEIGH - State environmental officials are conducting a nationwide search for a director for the N.C. Division of Marine Fisheries.

For the past 11 months, Braxton Davis has served as the director for the state divisions of Marine Fisheries and Coastal Management. The divisions had their own directors before April when Davis – then director of the Division of Coastal Management - was named to also lead the Division of Marine Fisheries.

"Braxton has been an outstanding leader for our agency and has served admirably as the chief for these two divisions for almost a year," said Michael Regan, secretary for the N.C. Department of Environmental Quality. "Braxton and I and our leadership team have discussed the workload of managing two divisions, and we all agree that oversight of both divisions is more than one person can handle in a long-term situ-

Davis will continue serving as the director for both divisions until a new director for the Division of Marine Fisheries is named. At that time, Davis will resume his previous role as director of the Division of Coastal Management. Davis has led the Division of Coastal Management since September 2011.

The position was posted today on the state's job posting website and will remain open until 5 p.m. March 22. People interested in applying for the state Division of Marine Fisheries' position or learning more about it can visit: https:// www.governmentjobs.com/careers/northcarolina/ jobs/1682472/division-director-division-ofmarine-fisheries.

Sea Grant Announces 2017 National Aquaculture Initiative

The National Sea Grant Program has announced the 2017 National Aquaculture Initiative — two competitive funding opportunities to advance aquaculture research, address barriers to aquaculture, and expand aquaculture production. Up to $15 million is expected to be available over several years. Interested parties are required to partner with a Sea Grant program to apply.

This competition is designed to foster the expansion of sustainable U.S. marine, coastal, and Great Lakes aquaculture. Successful applications must outline integrated projects that clearly address major constraints, barriers, or hurdles limiting U.S. aquaculture production.

Letters of intent, as outlined in the official request for proposals, are due March 28, 2017. Note that these letters MUST be developed in collaboration with a Sea Grant director.

Addressing Impediments to Aquaculture Opportunities (NOAA-OAR-SG-2017-2005177) questions regarding impediments to the development and expansion of sustainable U.S. marine, coastal, and Great Lakes aquaculture. Successful applications must outline small-scale projects, business plans, workshops, etc., to address key questions, barriers, or hurdles.

Proposals for this competition are due April 18, 2017. Eligibility is limited to Sea Grant programs across the country. However North Carolina Sea Grant and other programs are interested in collaborating with interested parties to develop potential project proposals.

Both competitions encourage a team approach - from a state, regional or topic-based perspective - to generate proposals that fully integrate at least one Sea Grant program and one partner.

The national Sea Grant network works to advance aquaculture by: Funding targeted research and development for issues that challenge sustainable aquaculture. Offering training and technical assistance to improve business profits and production efficiency.

Educating consumers about safe, sustainable seafood choices. For more details, see the NOAA announcement. For questions regarding North Carolina Sea Grant proposal submissions ahead of the deadlines, please contact: John Fear, 919-515-9104, imfear@ncsu.edu or Chuck Weirich, 252-222-6314, chuck weirich@ncsu.edu.

President Of The NC Fisheries Association To Speak At Chamber Meeting

The Pamlico County Chamber of Commerce will hold a General Membership Meeting. Guest speaker will be Jerry Schill, President of the NC Fisheries Association.
